Gypsy Moths

As The Larvae Repose, It's Either Spray Or Do Nothing

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A nine-member committee that has been studying ways to fight the despised gypsy moth will probably come up with two alternatives, the public health director said yesterday: aerial spraying, or the "do-nothing approach."

The gypsy moth committee, a subcommittee of the Board of Health, will forward a summary of its findings to the board by the end of October, Public Health Director Everett F. Penney, Jr., indicated. The full board will then make its recommendations to the selectmen.

If selectmen or townspeople want to call a special town meeting to appropriate funds for spraying, they will have to do it soon, Penney said — within a month or two — because spraying would have to begin in early spring.

The "consensus" of the subcommittee now seems to be "building toward" two choices, Penney explained: either aerially spraying with one of three chemical agents, or relying on public education with the hope that townspeople will take care of their own property — the "do-nothing approach."

The subcommittee will not advocate either choice, the director said, but will stand ready to advise the selectmen and townspeople and help prepare a special town meeting article on either alternative.

Penney foresees three major problems with spraying, if that is the town's choice.

First, town officials can count on running into "a lot of emotional reaction from people, especially in an environmentally-conscious community like Andover," he said. Many people do not like being told that their property will be sprayed whether they like it or not, he explained, and it is virtually impossible to spray one lot and not the next from the air.

Second, no one knows for certain just how bad the gypsy moth infestation will be next year. The town is planning to have an egg count survey done, Penney said, but even that will not give a totally reliable estimate of next year's moth population.

And finally, the cost of aerial spraying would be "enormous," Penney pointed out — as much as $300,000 to cover the entire town (excluding the watershed and state-owned areas) with two applications of one agent.

"In times of (Proposition) 2½, that money has to come from someone else's budget," Penney said. "I feel the economic indicator will be the determinant — it will probably come down to what the town can afford."

The subcommittee started out planning to study only the health effects of various aerial spraying agents on people and animals, but found it had to consider the economic impact and effectiveness of the chemicals as well, he explained.

During a Monday night meeting this week, the subcommittee heard reports from Dr. Stephen Baker of the Harvard School of Public Health and Lee Dane of Lincoln, Mass.

Baker, who spoke in a telephone conference call, described how spraying agents may cause cancer and birth defects, and the "overall implications (of spraying) for people who are hypersensitive to spraying agents," Penney said.

The doctor concluded that there is "no solid evidence that there are significant

Turn-Of-The Century Andover To Be Presented

The Andover Historical Society's First Sunday Series begins its fall season on Sunday, Oct. 4, with the slide-tape presentation, "Main Street Andover Since the Turn of the Century." Showings will be held at 2 p.m. and again at 3 p.m. at the society headquarters, 97 Main St. The admission charge of 50¢ adult, 25¢ child includes the slide show as well as a tour of the house and barn.

The 40-minute show traces the evolution of buildings and businesses along the central artery of Andover during the last eight decades. The slides and script, prepared by George Glennie, Charles Bowman and Arthur Kerwien, should fascinate both those who remember how Main Street has grown and those newcomers to Andover who are curious about its history. Featured are O.P. Chases's General Store, the Elm House, The Andover National Bank and many more views from the society's extensive collection of historical photographs. Come and hear the anecdotes about the old elm in front of Town Hall and the late night trolley from Lawrence.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit insititution open to the public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the Andover Historical Society office open 9 to 5, Monday through Friday.

ACT Plans Auditions For Play

Auditions for The Andover Community Theatre's fall production, "A Christmas Carol," directed by Tom Kirkman, will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 5, 6 and 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the East Junior High School, Bartlet Street, Andover. In addition to Scrooge there are a variety of roles for 18 men and 14 women and a chorus of carolers including a young and middle-aged Scrooge.

The Andover Community Theater welcomes new members; those who wish to appear on stage as well as those who are interested in working in other areas of the production. A production of this type calls for much work in many areas and those who are skilled in set construction, backstage work, painting, publicity, advertising and costumes are needed as much as the actors and singers.

Aluminum Recycling Saturday

Andover's fall aluminum drive will be held behind Town Hall this Saturday, Oct. 3, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. All pure aluminum beer and soft drink cans, frozen dinner trays, foil, housewares, siding and gutter material are suitable for recycling. A recent check of soft drink and beer containers indicated that large markets which have the quickest turnover and the newest stock seem to have more 100 percent aluminum soft drink cans on their shelves, and more of the newest aluminum cans are marked "recyclable aluminum." The universal price codes of many aluminum cans are a bright silver, and the can bottoms are lighter and brighter than bi-metal cans, which, even if seamless, appear more gray in color.

The best way of determining with certainty which containers are bi-metal and not suitable for recycling is the magnet test, easily made with any toy or household magnet, including the magnetic catches on most kitchen cabinet doors. Bi-metal cans are attracted and stick to magnets, whereas aluminum goods do not.

Volunteers from Andover Recycling, Inc. will run the aluminum drive and answer any questions about the town's recycling program.

Shannon To Address Chamber

The Community Room of the Lawrence Savings Bank in Shawsheen Square will be the setting for the first of four series sponsored by the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

The Economy Recovery Act of 1981 will be discussed in depth by Congressman James M. Shannon on Monday, Oct. 5, beginning at 8 a.m. with a continental breakfast.

Registrations are being accepted by the Chamber of Commerce office on a first come, first serve basis as the community room limits the numbers of people attending.

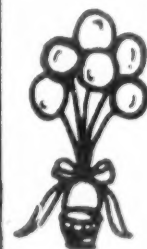

Anyone interested may call the office to make reservations.

Exhibit

Selected works of Vito Sammartano, former art professor at Salem state College, will be exhibited at the Winfisky Art Gallery, Student Union, SSC in Salem through Friday, Oct. 9. The exhibit, entitled "Celebration of His Life," commemorates the works of Professor Sammartano.

Parsley ranks at the top of the vegetable list in vitamin A.

Harris Votes Against Self And Loses

He voted against himself, but it didn't work: Selectman Edward Harris was re-elected as the Andover selectmen's representative to the county government on a three to one vote Monday night (Selectman Jerry Silverman was absent).

Harris drew a laugh from his colleagues when he unexpectedly cast a vote against himself as the county representative Monday night. They did not let him off the hook, however, so Harris has once again been drafted into service with the county.

To Seek Bids On $3 Million Bond Notes

The town will look for bids on $3 million in bond anticipation notes to fund the school building project early in October, the acting town manager told the selectmen Monday night.

Those notes should fund the project through the end of this year, acting Manager Tony Torrisi indicated, and will be used to pay the two contractors, Peabody Construction and Meola Construction.

And if the bond market improves, the town may sell bonds to permanently finance the $13.72 million project before the end of December, Torrisi added. He said he has instructed the New England Merchants Bank to begin preparing a notification of sale and be ready to sell the bonds as soon as economic conditions warrant.

Mooers' Rank Is Made Permanent

Police Sgt. Donald Mooers, an acting Sergeant since March, was formally approved by the selectmen Monday night as a full-time, permanent sergeant.

After the selectmen welcomed

Mooers to his new official status, acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi noted that the state's Civil Service listings are now starting to come through — so more police appointments will follow in the weeks ahead.

Selectmen Approve Licenses

During a regular meeting of the selectmen at Town Hall Monday night, the board granted one license to store diesel fuel and two one-day, all-alcoholic beverage licenses.

Academy Manor Housing Home of 89 Morton St. was given permission to store 1,000 gallons of diesel fuel in an underground storage tank, for backup heating. The fuel would power a standby generator in an emergency. The Fire Department reviewed and approved the request.

And the Christian Formation Center on River Road received the all-day liquor licenses for Saturday, Oct. 17, 6 p.m. to midnight for a dinner; and Friday, Oct. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight for a sports banquet.

Stop Sign Placed On Summer Street

Selectmen responded to a petition from Summer Street residents by voting unanimously to have a stop sign placed at the corner of Summer and Upland Road.

The Police Department supported the petition and recommended that the selectmen request that the stop sign be erected at the intersection.

The request reminded Chairman Norma Gammon that Cuba Street residents are still waiting for the "Slow Children" sign the selectmen authorized some months ago. Sgt. Richard Enos of the Andover Police explained that the sign cannot be posted until the state approves the reduced speed that the selectmen have requested for that street.

National Competition At Park

The Merrimack Valley Schutzhund Club is sponsoring the D.V.G. National Schutzhund Championship at the Recreation Park, Andover, on Oct. 9-12.

3 THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 1, 1981

Schutzhund is a dog sport designed 90 years ago in Germany as a test to select only competent working dogs for breeding. The dogs are tested in tracking, obedience and protection and are scored 0-100 in each category.

The very best working dogs in the United States will be competing at this event.

Medal For Fitzpatrick

Tech. Sgt. Brian T. Fitzpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Fitzpatrick of 24 Bellevue Road, has been decorated with the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M.

The Air Force Commendation Medal is awarded to those individuals who demonstrate outstanding achievement or meritorious service in the performance of their duties on behalf of the Air Force.

Fitzpatrick, a 1979 graduate of the University of Maryland, overseas extension, is a vehicle maintenance supervisor with the 4449th Mobility Support Squadron.

McAloon Completes Training

Coast Guard Fireman Robert M. McAloon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McAloon Jr. of 206 Pleasant St., North Andover, has completed recruit training at the Coast Guard Training Center, Cape May, N.J.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training leading toward their qualification in one of the Coast Guard's 26 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were first aid, seamanship, Coast Guard history and regulations, close order drill and damage control.

A 1980 graduate of North Andover High School, he joined the Coast Guard in June 1981.

Topsfield Fair To Open

Exciting Topsfield Fair, oldest continuous fair in America, will open Saturday, Oct. 3, for a 10-day run through Monday, Oct. 12, Columbus Day. The fairgrounds are on Route 1, Topsfield, about 25 miles north of Boston.

This 157th renewal of the No. 1 county fair in New England (12th in the nation), so ranked by the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, will bring a brilliant array of country/western and contemporary stars to the Topsfield stage, leading with Boston-born and Randolph-bred Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass on Oct. 3 and 4. Following in order, for two-day appearances, will be the Jack D'Johns; the Little David Wilkins Show; the Harmonica Rascals, with Sonny James, the top U.S. male singles country vocalist, appearing Oct. 11 and 12.

All stage shows are free. Included in the attractions are N.E. championship horse, oxen and pony pulling; draft horse competitions; sheep dog field trials; the famous fall flower show; performing arts, home arts and crafts in the handsome new family living center.

An innovation will be the fair's first Dollar Day on Monday, Oct. 5, with general admission $1 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Ronald McDonald will be a special attraction that day and midway rides will be half-price, with Purity Supreme Supermarket discount coupons.

Workshop

Current issues will be topics for two workshops held at Andover High School.

With the many transitions families face, "Ups and Downs of Parenting" is geared to help parents learn ways of coping with changes, especially life cycle issues, i.e., birth of first child, first child leaving home, marriage. The presenters are Greater Lawrence Mental Health Center staff members who have worked extensively with families and deal with many of these issues. The mini-course begins on Thursday, Oct. 1, 7 to 8:30 p.m. for six weeks at Andover High School.

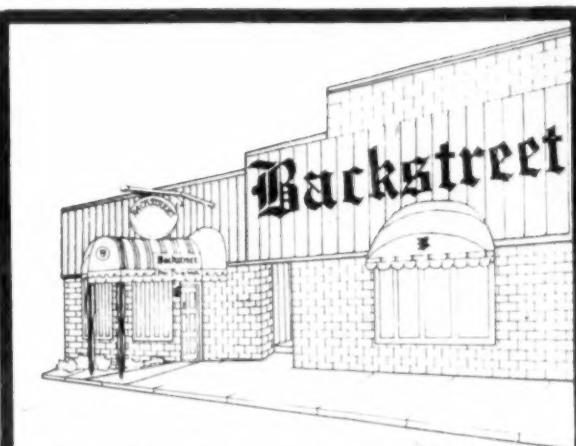

Registration for both mini courses is held at Andover Department of Community Services.

Fitness Program Is Offered

"Physical fitness is something that only you can do for yourself, but you can get lots of help from the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. as it offers numerous fitness classes to meet the needs of the individual," stated Robert Lavoie, physical director at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A.

The cardiovascular fitness program, a scientific testing and progressive conditioning program to improve the cardiovascular and muscular fitness of adults will highlight the fall term. This program offers a battery of physical fitness tests, individual test interpretation and professionally directed progressive conditioning exercise. Coed classes meet Monday, Wednesday and Fridays from 6:45 to 7:30 a.m. or 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. Participants will progress through a ten-week beginner program, followed by a ten-week intermediate program, leading into a continuous maintenance program.

Lavoie pointed out that this program is part of a national Y.M.C.A. cardiovascular health program that is expected to be serving 8,000,000 Americans by 1982.

Aquacises, a special exercise program in the pool, will meet Tuesday and Thursday from 7:45 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. and can be enjoyed by swimmer and non-swimmer alike.

Fitness for the Unfit, a fun conditioning program emphasizing rhythmic movements, flexibility, endurance and strength exercises to help you feel fit again, will meet Monday and Wednesday from 6 to 7 p.m.

The Y's Way to a Healthy Back program, a specialized program of exercise designed to prevent and alleviate backaches due to muscular weakness, tension and poor posture, will be offered for people with back problems who want to return to normal activities. Classes meet twice a week for six weeks on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m., or Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Tang Soo Do Karate will be included in the fall program. This family-oriented program strives to develop one as a person by means of mental and physical development. Instruction in self-defense, sparring, forms and breaking techniques will be included in this year-round program where students may be promoted through the various belts. Under the direction of Master Instructor Richard Byrne, world champion and president of the American Tang Soo Do Association, class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6 to 8 p.m. The program is open adults and children sixth grade and up.

A supervised weight-training program for women will be offered Monday, Wednesday and Fridays from 11:30 to 12 noon. The proper use of the 10-station Universal Gym will be explained and set-ups for each woman's particular needs.

Workouts designed to improve total fitness begins Oct. 19 and ends Nov. 13.

Lavoie concluded, "for the busy man or woman who wants to keep healthy and young there is no better investment than a membership in the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. Regular membership offers full use of the following facilities: 45 x 75 foot indoor swimming pool, double-sized gymnasium, physical program room, weight room and modern showers and locker rooms."

James Madison was the shortest of all American Presidents, standing only five feet, four inches tall.

Registrations are now being accepted at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. For further information, including a complete brochure covering all programs, times and fees, drop in at the Y.M.C.A., 165 Haverhill St., Andover, or call the Y.

Choral Society To Give Concert At Organ Hall

The second event of the fall series at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall will be a performance of the North Parrish Choral Society and Treble Chorus on Friday, Oct. 9, at 8:30 p.m.

Their first concert at the Methuen Hall will be conducted by Marie Stultz. The accompanist will be Richard Stultz.

Since its founding in 1969 the Society has performed more than 50 concerts throughout the North Shore and Greater Boston Metropolitan area. Although the group's forte is the performance of classical choral music, it often experiments with 20th century music, original music composed by Director Stultz and musical events such as "Grassroots."

The Treble Chorus is made up of 40 singers, age 7 to 14, and sings in concert with the adults as well as by themselves. They have been on the Sharon King Show, Show of Faith, and recently completed their first tour in the Berkshires.

The program will include the "Missa Brevis in B" by Mozart, the "Leibeslieder Waltzes" by Brahms, "Friday Afternoons" by Britten, "Collageum Regale" by Howells and "Jubilation," a motet for organ and two choirs written by composer-conductor Marie Stultz.

The Music Hall, originally known as Serlo Hall, was designed by the noted architect, Henry Vaughan, who also began the Washington Cathedral and designed Groton Chapel.

Admission to the fall recitals is $4 and $1

for children.

On Oct. 16, Kmiec, pianist, and Sherwood, organist, will perform at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall.

B'nai B'rith Announces Program

The Merrimack Valley Singles Unit of B'nai B'rith and B'nai B'rith Women is pleased to announce their second business meeting and program for the new season.

On Thursday evening, October 15 at 7:30 p.m., the business meeting will begin. The agenda includes a calendar update, committee reports and the introduction of new and prospective members.

Ed Berger, noted financial analyst and spokesman for The Boston Five Cents Saving Bank, will be addressing the group, beginning at 8:30 p.m. He will be speaking on a variety of financial and economic issues as they relate to young single persons. His topics will include changes and interpretation of the economy as well as changes in banking policy and legislation.

Faculty Recital At Academy

On Sunday, Oct. 4, at 3 p.m. the music department of Phillips Academy will present a recital with Rebecca Shulson, soprano, Eric Thomas, clarinet, and Harry Weinberger, piano, at Addison Gallery of American Art.

Sulson, a faculty member of the 1981 Phillips Academy Summer Session, received her Master of Music degree at the New England Conservatory. She does free lance work in the Boston area and teaches privately both in Boston and Wellesley. She is a soloist with the Wellesley Hills Congregational Church.

Thomas graduated from the New England Conservatory with a Bachelors of Music degree where he studied with Peter Hadcock. He has been a faculty member of the Phillips Academy Summer Session for four years and is a clarinet instructor at P.A. and teaches privately in the Boston area. He has played with the Proarte Orchestra, the New Hampshire Orchestra, the Harvard Chamber Orchestra and is a member of the Quintet DiLegno and the chamber music group of Louise Vosgerhian and Robert Koff.

Weinberger received his Master of Music degree in piano from the New England Conservatory. He is a faculty member of the Eastern Music Festival and music director of the Boston Children's Opera Company and coach of the Opera Theater, a combined program with the Boston Conservatory and the New England Conservatory. He has been a student of Victor Rosenbaum and Leonard Shure.

The program will include works by Schubert, Brahms and Manuel de Falla. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Church Hoop League Registering

The Andover Church Basketball League has begun registration for the upcoming season. Coordinators in the following churches and temple are now signing up youth (8-15) for league play: Ballardvale United, Christ, St. Augustine's, St. Robert Bellarmine, South, Temple Emanuel and West Parish.

Youths who live in Andover and do not attend a town church, or who attend an Andover church that does not have a team, may register for league play. Registration forms are available at the above churches or at the Andover Hockey Shop and the Sport Shop.

Foreign Powers

Outside the U.S., the world has more than 70,000 megawatts of installed nuclear capacity, the equivalent of 70 one-million kilowatt plants. This will be boosted to nearly 450,000 megawatts when plants that are planned are completed. France alone plans to bring one nuclear reactor into operation every two months, on the average, between 1980 and 1985.

Hospital Focus On Volunteers

Lawrence General Hospital will focus on volunteers from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday, Oct. 5, to acquaint potential volunteers with opportunities at the hospital.

Anyone interested may call the volunteer office to register. A buffet lunch is included.

The program will include a slide show of LGH volunteers with an overview of the volunteer program by Mary O'Brien of Salem, N.H., director of volunteer services, and brief talks by Mollie Berger of Andover, a volunteer at the hospital's reception desk; Jean Mulcahy of Boxford, a volunteer on a nursing unit; and Dawn Markle of Andover, a volunteer in the Hospitality Shop (gift shop and lunch counter).

Herbert Schultz, Lawrence attorney who lives in North Andover, will speak on the role of confidentiality in hospital ethics.

Bruce Cook of Methuen, chairman of the hospital's fire and safety committee, will discuss what a volunteer should know about fire and safety. Since Oct. 4-10 is National Fire Prevention Week, there will be a drawing for smoke detectors.

The volunteer's role in infection control will be the topic of a brief talk by Janet Miller, RN, of Boxford, the hospital's infection control nurse. Preventive measures and correct technique in physical therapy will be addressed by Vivian Ackley, RPT, of Hampstead, N.H., director of physical therapy.

The program will conclude with tours of the hospital led by members of the hospital's Aid Association.

Hospital Expanding Wait Area

Construction has begun at Lawrence General Hospital to enlarge the emergency department's waiting room and provide a canopied pedestrian entrance to the emergency area. The project is expected to be completed by early winter.

Low bidder for the project was Raymond G. Mansour, Inc., at $95,000. Cost of construction will be paid for by a special contribution from an anonymous trust.

The emergency department's waiting room will be enlarged from 25 to 40 seats by expanding into the current vestibule. A new vestibule entry will be built in front of the current one with a canopy extending from this to allow a car to drive under it, so that patients will not be exposed to the elements in bad weather.

In addition, the width of the three ambulance bays will be widened to provide better working space. Moss, Garikes and Associates, Inc. of Birmingham, AL, is the architectural firm.

Lawrence General is the busiest emergency department in the Merrimack Valley and one of the dozen busiest in Massachusetts. During its 1979-80 fiscal year, it provided care for 57,052 emergency visits.

Andover Volunteers

Allen and May Flye of Andover each volunteer two days at Lawrence General Hospital. Mr. Flye works on a volunteer basis one day a week in the hospital's purchasing department and one day in the print shop. May works one day a week in visitor control in the maternity unit and one day in the Thrift Shop.

Samaritans Begin Training Session

The Samaritans of Greater Lawrence, a non-profit volunteer suicide prevention service, will begin a new training session Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Men and women over 18 are invited to call the Samaritans for an interview for the six week training session. No previous experience or knowledge is needed because the Samaritans provide a listening, not a counseling, service.

The Samaritans are a group of ordinary men and women who man a 24-hour a day, 7-days a week telephone hotline for people who are suicidal or depressed. The Samaritans are not a religious organization and are privately funded.

The Samaritans of Greater Lawrence is one of five branches currently operating in the U.S. and is a member of an interna-

Grant Received For Course

Northern Essex Community College has received grants for two new programs from the Division of Occupational Education of the Massachusetts Department of Education. It was announced recently by President John R. Dimitry.

The college received a $35,300 grant to implement a Computer Programming Skills Training course designed primarily for teachers and municipal employees who have lost their jobs because of recent cutbacks. The thirty-three week concentrated computer programming course will be offered at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School as part of the expanding cooperative relationship between the college and the vocational school.

The second award from the Massachusetts Department of Education is for a Word Processing Technology and Management Degree Program. The $27,225 grant will fund the participation of 25 students in the first year of this program to train students in the fast growing word processing field.

We are pleased to be able to offer these new programs which will train Merrimack Valley residents for jobs now available in the rapidly expanding high tech industry in our area," stated President Dimitry in making the announcement.

The Byrnes Anti-Strike-breaker Act of 1936 declared it unlawful to transport or aid in transporting strikebreakers in interstate or foreign commerce," according to the U.S. Department of Labor publication, "Important Events in American Labor History."

at Andover Bank.

The new All Savers Certificates allow you to earn up to $2,000 in tax-free interest if you file a joint federal income tax return. Or up to $1,000 if you file an individual return.

It's a new type of savings account created by Congress. It carries a one-year term and a low minimum deposit of just $500. And it is a deposit, so your certificate will be insured by the F.D.I.C.

The All Savers Certificate will pay you 70% of the rate set at the most recent auction of the one-year U.S. Treasury Bill. To see exactly how much that can mean for you, study the table.

Then stop into any office of Andover Bank for complete details. Do it today, because in this day and age, there's nothing petty about cash.

East Junior High Happenings

By Jennifer Tucker and Tracey Lasch

This week many of our fall activities began including soccer, football and cheerleading. East's soccer team hopes to carry on the tradition of excellence set by last year's championship team. They will be competing in the Merrimack Valley League against West Junior High, the greater Lawrence Voke and Methuen. They will also play Brooks, Masconomet, Pike and Phillips Academy.

The team, a mixture of boys and girls, as well as eighth and ninth graders, played its first game Friday against the Greater Lawrence Voke and won by a score of 5-0. John Drake, Thanh Nguyen, Han Wook Kang, Dan Connolly and Barry Tucker all scored goals to lead the team to victory.

This year's team members are ninth graders Mike Alden, Mark Asgerisson, Brenda Busta, Dave Casanave, John Drake, Sean Foster, Han Wook Kang, Tom Hollenbeck, Lisa Marcella, James Marocco, Dave Morse, Thanh Nguyen, Mark Paskowsky, Gage Perry, Sara Poor, John Recesso, Treisha Shuman, Jeff Shupe, Karen Sofia, Dave Webster, Craig Ziady and Steve Zaimes. From the eighth grade there are Erik Asgerisson, Jeff Ashworth, Bob Boshar, Dave Eckman, Mal Galvin, Dave Maguire, Todd Orrell, Dan Shertzer and Barry Tucker.

East will open at home on Friday, Oct. 2 against the Methuen freshmen. Come on out and support your team!

Although we lost our first football game on Friday against Dracut by a score of 14-0, we know that with a little work and a lot of school spirit we can still have a great season! This year's football team consists of 38 students from the eighth and ninth grades. Ninth grade ends include Matt Aumais, Dwight O'Hara, Eric Deloury, Ernie Baldwin, Chris Madden, Rick Carey. As running backs we have Chris Vallee, Alan Long, Greg Hopwood, John Barry, Joe Shea, Todd Rockman and Arnold Koh. The guards are Rick Napolitano, Scott Gibson, Brian Garside and Chris Goulart. Our ninth grade tackles are Joe Dadiago, Steve Comstock and Scott Latanzio. The quarterbacks for this year are Tom Lutz and Dan Carignan. The remaining ninth grade player, David Ball, is our center. Our eighth grade football players are, at guard, Kevin Page and Jim Roberts. The running backs are Larry Aiello, Rob Ditroia, Rob Nelson and Mark Polakow. At the tackle position we have Scott McAllister, Ricky Starkweather, Kevin Low and Bob Smith. The eighth grade ends are Sandy McNeish, John Nuzzo and Bill Dalton. Last, but not least, our center is Bob Manning.

To cheer on our fighting warriors we have in the ninth grade, Darlene Cuddy, Christine Jensen, Mary Jane Dwyer, Beth Tracy, Suzanne Curley and Kara Oliver. In the eighth grade, Chantal Perrat, Jennifer Pasternak, Amy Morton and Katie Hughes. Our two alternates are Allison Bainbridge and Laurie McDonald.

Another planned activity for this month is our first dance. It will be held Friday, Oct. 16, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the gym. Students are asked to enter the building through the auditorium as construction prevents us from using the door facing Doherty School.

Many changes have come about at East and we, as the writers of this article, would like to make yet another. We will be holding a contest to find a new title for this article. The best titles will be chosen and given to us from two English teachers. The top three will be published in this article. The best one of these will be used as the title of this article for the rest of this year.

Hopefully, with everyone's help, we can all make this the best year at Andover East Junior High.

Coastal Course

Exploring tidal pools and sandy beaches for the variety of plant and animal life is one of life's more fun things to do!

Massachusetts Audubon Society is offering a course on the rocky coasts and salt marsh of the North Shore. The course begins Thursday, Oct. 1, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and continues to the next two Saturdays.

There is a fee. For more information and registration forms, call or write: the Endicott Regional Center, 346 Grandview Road, Wenham, MA 01984.

Pre-School Begins New Year

The Free Church Cooperative Pre-school has begun its 24th year of operation. It is a non-sectarian nursery school which meets Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. in the Free Christian Church on Elm Street in Andover. The school offers parents an opportunity to actively participate in their child's first formal step out of the home into the community. It is a place where both children and parents learn, class are and make new. Neil Collier, Greg Couer, Greg Dell'Accio, Michelle Elias, Inci Erden, Melissa Gould, Joey Hogarty, Allison, Stacey and Kristen Jenkins, Jesse Lugas, Carrie Mauck, Christopher Ouellette, Ammand Shulman, Sarah Weir and Jack Zeilenga.

They will be taught by teacher director Mrs. Betty Carpentier and her assistant, Mrs. Kay Grace.

Board members are Mrs. Alan Gould, president; Mrs. Roger Jenkins and Mrs. William Weir, vice presidents; Mrs. Alan Shulman, secretary; Mrs. John Lugas, treasurer; Mrs. Michael Elias, equipment; Mrs. Robert Mauck and Mrs. Bill Dell'Accio, fund raisers.

A few openings are still available for the 1981-82 school year for children who will be four years old by Dec. 31.

Humpbacks Rare

Humpback whales are now the third rarest whale in the world; they have been protected since 1966 but the population has not increased. They spend more time in shallow coastal waters than any other whale. Mass Audubon tells us

Painful stings can be eased with a paste of cornstarch or baking soda mixed with vinegar, lemon juice or witch hazel.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — October 1906

Many local people will be interested to know that Dr. J. Lyman Belknap, surgeon on the battleship Kentucky, is on the way to Cuba with his vessel, having been ordered by the President to proceed from Provincetown on Wednesday morning.

A meeting of the local retail milk dealers was held in the vestry of the South church on Thursday morning for the purpose of talking over the matter of raising the price of milk. After much discussion it was finally voted that the price per quart would be advanced from six cents to seven cents and the price per can would be forty-eight cents.

J.E. Whiting has just purchased a fine ship chronometer which the public is invited to inspect. It gives the time within a few seconds and never has to be set, and will prove very valuable to those who wish to keep exact time on their watches.

A very pleasant dancing party was held in the Grange hall on last Friday evening by a number of well known people. It was arranged and conducted wholly for married people and the only qualification for admission was that gentlemen should be accompanied by their better halves.

50 Years Ago — October 1931

Accompanied by two sedate Siamese cats and a little dog, "Le Trio Morgan," known to Andover as the three Morgan sisters, Frances, Virginia and Marguerite, who now have played before royalty and high-class audiences throughout America and Europe, came to Andover Monday for a short visit and to renew some old friendships. The three girls, who used to live here, left for New York Tuesday over the road to make preparations for their winter season of concerts, for which they are well-booked.

As the Board of Selectmen in Andover prepare this week to send out the referendum ballots on the telephone situation to determine once and for all whether Andover telephone subscribers wish to remain outside of the Lawrence exchange or join it, developments of the past week show that a steering committee of citizens met in the Town hall to arrange for "missionaries" to go out among the people to convince them that Andover phone users will be better off with the Lawrence exchange.

Last Saturday afternoon a gasoline explosion in the milk house of Lewis Belisle started a fire which entirely destroyed his barn. His supply of winter hay was burned but fortunately the cattle were saved.

One of the features of the meeting of the Ballardvale Parent Teachers Association

Despite popular impressions, Americans are not on a credit binge. The average household pays 16 percent of its take home income on installment debt. This is down from over 18 percent several years ago.

The first milk bottles were introduced by the local farmers from the New York area.

After 6 p.m.

was the Halloween party held in the kindergarten room of the Bradlee school. This followed the regular business and was certainly a merry occasion. Many came in costume. Dainty refreshments were served.

25 Years Ago — October 1956

There are 2752 children in public schools this fall. School Superintendent Edward I. Erikson told the school committee last week that enrollment has doubled in 12 years and is 240 greater than a year ago at this time.

Fifty-three teen-agers were hauled into police headquarters Tuesday night for questioning — and police said they admitted gathering on Greenwood road for a gang fight. Chief David Nicoll said investigations would continue, with serious consideration being given to turning over license numbers and the registrations on nine cars to the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

The selectmen want to know why no one took the registration number of a car that allegedly precipitated an accident on Shawsheen road between the Fire Department jeep and a private car. The board Monday night said it would ask Police Chief David Nicoll why police didn't take the car's number after it stopped at the accident.

The first of its kind in the nation. That's how Andover's Olympic Week shapes up, as literally hundreds of committeemen put the finishing touches on plans for the week-long extravaganza Oct. 13 to 20. Nowhere in the country has any community planned a week of activities, featuring miniature Olympic events with local boys and girls plus imported, nationally-famous stars to dramatize both the need for cooperative community support for the Olympics and to support the practical fund-raising aspect of the games.

10 Years Ago — October 1971

Selectman Sidney P. White will close out a long career of public service in Andover at the end of his current term. Selectman White, who has served the town in various capacities over three decades, said he was announcing his plans to retire from public service at this time, in order to allow sufficient time for potential candidates to make their decision as to running in the March, 1972 elections.

The police and fire personnel have been separated in salary and working conditions for the first time, as members of the Police Betterment Association and the town signed their first contract. The agreement reached after a year of negotiation, follows the Evans Report, a salary and working conditions structure done for the town by the consultants a few years ago.

Phillips Academy's faculty Tuesday night voted their preference for the nearly 200 year old boys' boarding school educating boys and girls together, rather than separately. Headmaster John Kemper pointed out that he now had a clear-cut expression of professional opinion from the faculty to present to the trustees. The trustees must decide not only whether to co-educate but, if so, whether PA shall accomplish it by merger with adjacent Abbot Academy, or move into coeducation on its own.

Condominium proposals would appear to hold the center of interest for the October town meeting scheduled to get underway Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial auditorium. There are three proposals calling for action and one article calling for adoption of a specific condominium bylaw facing the voters in a 29-article warrant. Until the land issues appeared in mid-summer, there was serious doubt as to the obtaining of a quorum for the sessions, since most of the money articles are of a non-controversial nature.

Road Race

On Sunday, Oct. 25, at 1 p.m., the Andover Department of Community Services will hold its Sixth Annual 5-Mile Road Race beginning and ending at the Sanborn School on Lovejoy Road. Each year this event has increased in popularity with more than 200 runners last year. This year's race is sponsored by Pepsi Cola. Registration forms and race route maps are available at the Department of Community Services office located in the Shawsheen School, the Sport Shop, the Hockey Shop and Andover High School.

Racer's numbers will be assigned at the DCS office for those registering in person, otherwise numbers will be reserved and available on race day. T-shirts go to the first 100 entries. It is important to get registration forms to the DCS office by Oct. 23 to avoid the late entry fee. Trophies will be awarded to the first place finisher in each category, medals to second and ribbons to third.

College Board Tests To Be Administered

Students of Andover High School will have the option of taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the Achievement Test (not both) on a given test date. It is recommended that seniors take the SAT in November and the Achievement tests in December or January. Juniors are recommended to take the SAT in June and the Achievement Tests in May. Sophomores or juniors who are completing courses such as Biology, Chemistry, languages, World Civilization, etc. should take the Achievement Tests in May.

Test administration dates for the Academic Testing Program for the academic year 1981-1982 are as follows:

Nov. 7 (SAT or ACH); Dec. 5 (SAT or ACH); Jan. 23 (SAT or ACH); March 27 (SAT only); May 1 (SAT or ACH); June 5 (SAT or ACH).

The Achievement Tests being offered are: English Composition, Literature, American History and Social Studies, European History and World Cultures, Mathematics Level I and II, French, German, Hebrew, Latin, Russian, Spanish, Biology and Physics.

Four of these Achievement Tests (European History and World Cultures, Hebrew, Latin and German) are given only in December and May. Seniors should be aware that English Composition with Essay is offered in December only.

Students may obtain applications and additional information from their guidance counselor. The High School Code number is 220-025 and the Center Number is 2998.

To Present Slides On Montessori

The Andover School of Montessori (ASM) will present a newly produced slide show written by Alice Gebura, teacher at ASM, announced administrator Cynthia Genier.

The October Parent Meeting will be held on Oct. 5 at 8 p.m. in the classrooms located at St. Michael's School, Main Street, North Andover.

The meeting will feature a slide show entitled, "Montessori: A Way of Learning." All the photography for this show was done at ASM. The program will give an overall view of the Montessori approach to learning including the materials, activities and philosophy.

Gebura is beginning her second year at the school. She received her Bachelor of Music degree from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, and holds her Masters in music theory. In 1979 Gebura attended the New England Montessori Teacher Training Program at Boston College. She is a certified Montessori teacher.

Parents interested in gaining more information about the Montessori approach to learning are invited to attend. The Andover School of Montessori does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, creed, sex or national origin.

'Sganarelle'

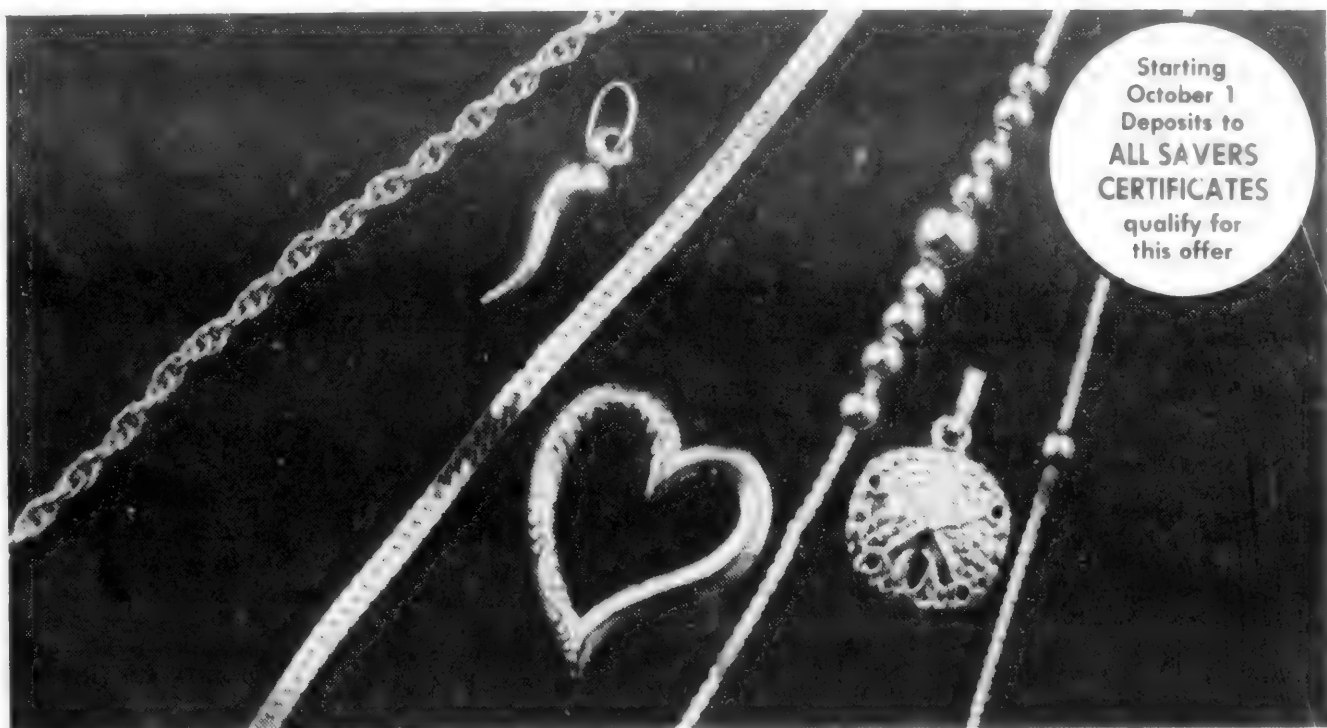

The nationally acclaimed American Repertory Theatre Company, in residence at Harvard's Loeb Drama Center, will perform its highly acclaimed "Sganarelle," from classic Moliere farces, at Salem State College Auditorium in Salem at 8 p.m. on Oct. 28.

Doherty Work Stays Right On Schedule

Construction at the Doherty School is right on target, but work is lagging slightly behind schedule at West Junior High and Andover High School. Project Manager William Mansell reported yesterday

Work at all three sites of the school building project is "progressing in a normal fashion," the manager said, although a few unforeseen problems have caused delays at West and the high school.

During the past week, Peabody Construction has concentrated on pouring concrete for wall systems at all three schools. At the high school alone, 140 yards were poured. Mansell said — "quite a bit of concrete."

Meanwhile, Meola Construction has been busy putting the finishing grades on playing fields at Doherty.

The contractor is ready to install a new gas line at the high school, Mansell said, beginning tomorrow with completion planned for the middle of next week.

And at West, a final drainage system was scheduled for installation in the Sweeney courtyard yesterday and today, also to be completed some time next week.

Sunday's early morning fire at the Stowe School left demolition contractor

Kidder Building and Wrecking with plenty of work to do. Mansell added. Crews had to take down the central fireplace and chimney left standing after the fire, along with a back wall that was left partially intact.

Workers have also been clearing debris from the Stowe site, and cleaning and salvaging as much brick as possible. The building was entirely down as of yesterday morning.

The $13.72 million project — which will see Doherty converted into a new junior high to replace East, a new auditorium built at Andover High, and a new library added to West, along with other renovations — is scheduled for completion in September 1983.

Don't quit smoking. Just listen.

At a FREE Smokenders
meeting you smoke all you like.

SMOKENDERS
It's easier when you know how
With the Jacquelyn Rogers method

Why come to a free Smokenders meeting if you're not sure you want to quit smoking?

Because you've got absolutely nothing to lose and a whole new life to gain. Because for over eleven years we've helped hundreds of thousands of smokers just like you, all over the world, quit smoking. Forever. Easily. Without scare tactics, "cold turkey" withdrawal, hypnosis, weight gain, or willpower.

We're proud of our impressive list of "quitters." Hundreds of major corporations, organizations, and government agencies, such as the Public Health Service (part of HEW) have already chosen Smokenders to help their people stop smoking for life.

So, join us at a FREE Smokenders meeting — even if you have never thought you'd give up smoking. Bring your cigarettes, light up, relax, and who knows? You might just change your mind.

Counselors Certified

Eleven alcoholism services staff members at Lawrence General Hospital (LGH) were among the first in the state to qualify as Certified Alcohol Counselors (CAC).

Alcoholism counseling, a relatively new and growing profession, has recently defined the roles and developed standards necessary to be certified as a qualified alcoholism counselor. These standards included having a minimum of 1,000 hours of actual alcohol counseling experience and a qualifying examination.

The first statewide examination was in July. All of the counselors from LGH Alcoholism Services who applied for certification have been notified that they are certified and may now use the designated CAC.

The eleven who have been certified from our LGH Alcoholism Services are: Bernard Ouimet, outpatient coordinator; Jeffrey Sunshine, outpatient counselor; Barbara Beal, outpatient counselor; Leslie Lipkind, outpatient counselor; David Angulin, detoxification head counselor; Sheila Tuccolo, counselor; Joyce Piekarski, RN, and William Hartman, detoxification unit attendant.

Those certified from Prospect House (LGH alcoholism recovery home) are: Lou Dube, director-manager, and Raymond Wiseman, counselor.

Joseph Bolduc, Prospect House assistant manager-counselor, received charter certification with the formulation of the initial Massachusetts Certification Board in 1979 and presently serves on that board representing Massachusetts Recovery Homes.

Fatal Accident Prompts Action On Traffic

The death of an elderly woman who was struck by a car while crossing North Main Street last week has prompted the selectmen to take a new look at long-standing traffic problems on that busy roadway.

A comprehensive Planning Board study may result from the selectmen's concerns.

The board Monday night requested that the Police Department take immediate steps to improve safety on North Main Street, which runs from Elm Square to just short of the Lawrence line.

The stretch of North Main between Shawsheen Plaza and Shawsheen Square -- where Alice Hastings, 71, was killed last Wednesday night as she crossed the street to reach her home at Frye Circle -- is perhaps the busiest section of the street.

Chairman Norma Gammon asked Sgt. Richard Enos, representing the police, to look into changing the timing of the lights in front of Frye Circle, which some residents claim do not remain red long enough to let the elderly cross the street safely.

Gammon said she was not aware that residents considered the light too short until after Hastings' accident; Enos indicated he had not realized the light was too short either.

Thomas Powers, chairman of the Andover Council on Aging, added that residents cannot step off the curb as soon as they push the red-light button, or they will be stepping directly into oncoming traffic. But if they wait for the traffic to stop, Powers said, they will not have enough time to cross before the light turns green again.

Gammon said the lights at Shawsheen Square may be too fast for older pedestrians as well.

Selectman Donn Byrne suggested that a floodlight be hung in the middle of the street over the Frye Circle crosswalk, so that drivers would notice the area more easily. Enos agreed that "more lighting is definitely needed."

Shawsheen Plaza merchants should also consider hiring off-duty police officers to direct traffic in front of the congested shopping center, Gammon and Byrne recommended. Enos indicated that such plans are already under discussion among the merchants.

It may be time for the Planning Board to do a study of the area in cooperation with the police and Public Works department. Selectman Susan Poore told Enos -- who said the last study was probably done before Route 495 was built.

Although the selectmen are not authorized to tell the planners what to do, "it looks like there's a sufficient amount of concern in the community to warrant a North Main Street study," Poore explained.

North Main Street is under the authority of the state, and not the town, although the town is responsible for policing the road, acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi pointed out.

Any changes in signs and traffic signals or long-term studies would have to be reviewed and approved by state authorities, he said.

Healthy Back Program

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will offer the Y's Way to a Healthy Back program starting Monday, Oct. 12. The program, designed primarily to relieve back pain, increase flexibility and ease tension, was designed by Dr. Hans Kraus, world famous back specialist, and approved by the Medical Advisory Committee of the Y.M.C.A. of Greater New York.

The special exercise program, utilizing the Kraus-Weber test to determine minimal muscular strength and flexibility, is composed of a series of movements that begins with relaxation, then flexibility, mild muscular strengthening and returning to muscle relaxation techniques.

More than 80 percent of the participants previously enrolled in our program found relief or complete elimination of back pain," according to Heidi Wolfman, certified instructor of the program.

If you are among the many who complain of back pain and your condition is not caused by organic disease, but by muscles that are weak or tense or both, then the Y.M.C.A. program may be of significant help to you," stated Mrs. Wolfman.

The six-week program will be offered Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m.

Condo Tenants Wait Two Hours To Learn They'll Wait Longer

The selectmen have "all the sympathy in the world" for Washington Park tenants anxious to know whether the board will continue to press for a condominium bylaw in Andover, the selectmen chairman said Monday night but that decision will not be made until Oct. 13.

A small group of tenants waited nearly two hours for selectmen to emerge from a closed-door session at Town Hall, hoping to hear the board had decided to drop its litigation in favor of the bylaw.

But Chairman Norma Gammon read a statement saying that while the selectmen had "a great deal of empathy" for the Washington Park residents' dilemma, they needed more information from legal counsel before they would consider dropping their court case.

Gammon explained that both Town Counsel Alfred Daniels and Special Town Counsel Thomas Arnold have been on vacation and unavailable to answer a number of questions selectmen have on the legal aspects of withdrawing their litigation.

The selectmen are not leaning "either way at this point," Gammon said yesterday, adding that to indicate what their decision might be would violate the secrecy of the board's executive session Monday night.

The chairman said the board would "definitely" make their decision during a public meeting Tuesday, Oct. 13, after consulting with Daniels and Arnold, who will both return by the end of this week.

"It's too bad it's had to go on so long," Gammon commented, "but our lawyers left us hanging, and there are just so many questions we need to have answered."

The selectmen are appealing Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti's decision that the town's condo bylaw is illegal. Town meeting approved that bylaw by a wide margin last spring, after enthusiastic lobbying by elderly Washington Park tenants who favored the bylaw, hoping it would offer them some protection against condo conversion.

The bylaw would require developers to give apartment dwellers one year's notice before evicting them to convert rental units into condominiums. It would also require developers to petition the Zoning Board of Appeals for a special permit for condo conversion.

Some Washington Park tenants changed their minds about the bylaw after town meeting, when the complex was purchased for condo conversion by Cohen Properties of Brookline. About 52 percent of the complex tenants plan to buy their apartments as condos, Dorothy Winn of the Andover Council on Aging estimated Monday, and 48 percent will move out.

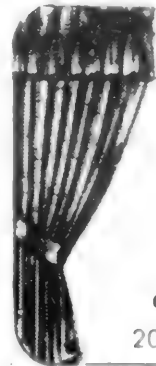

The selectmen's court case is making it difficult for tenants to obtain bank financing to purchase their units, residents say. And many are unhappy about a developers' conversion fee of one percent of the gross selling price that selectmen have added to the permit process, because they say that fee will be passed directly along to individual buyers.

The residents petitioned the selectmen to drop their appeal several weeks ago, but Gammon said the selectmen must consider the best interests of the entire town, and not just the Washington Park tenants.

Tenant Alex Hasbany told the board Monday night they are "really creating a serious hardship on these people. There is a lot of tension there, and it is very unfair."

Hasbany reminded the board that more people signed the petition in favor of dropping the appeal than actually voted in favor of the bylaw at town meeting.

Films

Stuart Drysdale, by profession a country lawyer in Crieff, Scotland, and director of Perthshire Paperweights Ltd., will narrate new films showing how paperweights are made and the production of the millefiori canes and lampwork pieces that make up the central designs. He will conduct a question and answer period following the films.

The program will take place on Sunday, October 4, at 2 p.m. at the Newton Arts Center, 6, Washington Park, Newtonville. Admission is free.

Glass paperweights have their origin in the mid-nineteenth century when the most famous creations, now prized antiques, were made at the three French factories of Baccarat, Clichy and St. Louis. Perthshire Paperweights, which has been in the forefront of the contemporary revival of this art form, uses the time honored techniques of this classic period of paperweights to produce its modern treasures.

The public is invited to view the films, ask questions and bring unidentified glass paperweights to the Drysdale and Harvey Robinson local paperweight dealer who is sponsoring this event with the Newton Arts Center.

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 1, 1981

By Janet D. Lake

There are still a few seats left on the van going to the Topsfield Fair Oct. 6. Senior Citizens Day. Transportation and admission is only $2.50. This event is always colorful and interesting. You'll enjoy it! Call the center for details.

The second bus for the Fall foliage trip Oct. 14 is filling fast. If you don't want to be disappointed, do not wait until the last minute to make your reservation. The $12 fee includes the trip and lunch at the Old Mill Restaurant in Westminster, which in itself is worth the trip. Get down to The Haven and let them know you want to be included!

The Oct. 4 theater party to see "The King & I" is sold out.

Flu shots will be available today—Thursday, Oct. 1—at the Sanborn School between 3 and 6 p.m. Pneumonia shots will also be given, but they will cost you $5 and require previous arrangements. The flu shot is free. Sanborn School is located on Lovejoy Road between Lowell Street and Dascomb Road; Lovejoy Road being the road parallel to Rte. 93, before you get to IRS.

Carleton Shulze will be taking you for a visit to Italy and Switzerland Monday afternoon, Oct. 5, at 2 o'clock in the next Travelog series.

Oct. 8 the Andover Historical Society will present a program at The Haven at 2 p.m.; the first in a series entitled "Tour of the Andovers." The society will present several programs of interest to Andover residents in the weeks to come. Watch for titles in this column. Of course, the program is free.

The Haven—Andover's senior citizen drop-in center—will be closed Monday, Oct. 12, in celebration of Columbus Day. There will also be no hot lunch that day.

The recent flea market at the center was so successful that it is coming back by popular demand. On Wednesday, Nov. 11, another flea market and mini-fair will be held at The Haven with proceeds going to the center. Do mark it on your calendar. It will be worth your while.

The next mini-clinic will be held at The Haven next Tuesday, Oct. 6, from 2 to 4 p.m. Call the Andover Health Department for an appointment.

Project Formulated To Finance Energy

The Massachusetts Municipal Association and the state Executive Office of Energy Resources have announced a project to help cities and towns finance energy conservation improvements for municipal facilities.

"The technology now exists for local governments to cut their energy consumption—the problem is that some up-front money is needed to introduce the new conservation techniques," according to Brent Wilkes, field services director of the MMA, a statewide organization that represents the interests of cities and towns.

With budget cuts being made at every level of government, the ability of municipalities to invest in energy-saving technology has been seriously impaired, Wilkes said.

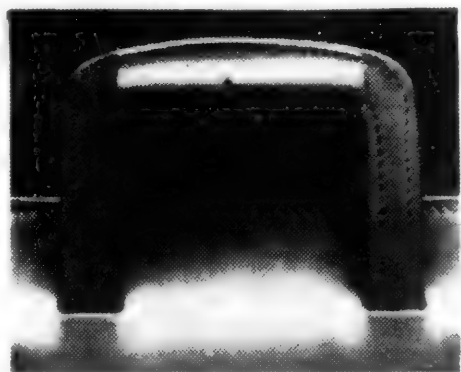

"Traditional sources of funds such as state and federal grants are drying up, leaving public institutions in a position where they know what they could be doing to save energy but lack the wherewithal to do it."

Under a contract with the Executive Office of Energy Resources, the Municipal Association will conduct a comprehensive survey of the financing options available to municipal governments that want to make energy improvements. The most promising of these techniques will then be put to the test in eight pilot projects with the MMA's Field Services Division providing the financial expertise that may be needed by the municipalities that are selected for the projects.

"In the final phase of the program we shall prepare a handbook that shares our findings and experience with all the cities and towns in the commonwealth."

Cooke—McLean

Mrs. George J. Cooke, Jr.

The marriage of Jenifer McLean and George Joseph Cooke, Jr. took place Saturday, Sept. 26, at Christ Episcopal Church, Andover, in a candlelight ceremony.

The Rev. Donald Woodward officiated, assisted by the Rev. Frederick Collins.

The bride's dress of silk satin with inserts of cut velvet trimmed with Alencon lace was originally worn by her great grandmother, Gertrude Truell, in 1885 when she was wed to Albert E. Butler in Lawrence, and by her mother, the late Mary Elizabeth Butler McLean, in 1947.

The bride is presently word processing supervisor in the School of Management at Boston University. She was graduated cum laude from both Abbot Academy and Dartmouth College. Her father, E. Wells McLean, is the New England representative for Brunswick et Fils, Inc. of New York, and president of E. Wells McLean, Inc. of Boston.

Cooke, a graduate of Western New England College in Springfield, is an administrative associate with the First National Bank of Boston. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Joseph Cooke of Hightstown, N.J.

Free tours of the Commonwealth Winery, Cordage Park (off Route 3A), Plymouth, are given Monday through Saturday.

Reunion

The Lawrence High School class of 1946, 35th reunion will be held at the Christian Formation Center on River Road in West Andover on October 31st.

Dinner, after a 6:30 p.m. social hour and short entertainment program, will be followed by dancing until 1 a.m., according to reunion chairman Raymond V. Palmegiano, president of the class.

Reunion committee members are requested to take all sold ticket returns to Barbara Scuderi nropera, ticket chairwoman.

Karen L. Etter

November Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Etter of Haverhill, formerly of Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Lynne, to Kevin E. Carney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Carney of Andover.

Miss Etter is a graduate of Andover High School and the College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, where she majored in English. She is currently public relations assistant at Lawrence General Hospital.

Her fiance is a graduate of Andover High School and currently a foreman at Holland's Landscaping Design, Inc., North Andover.

A Nov. 21 wedding is planned.

November Club Plans Assemblies

November Club President Mrs. Donald Sheehan has announced the club will again sponsor the Andover tradition—the November Club Assemblies. The Assemblies, held at the club house at 6 Locke St., afford fifth and sixth grade students an opportunity to learn ball room and disco dancing in an atmosphere of graciousness and fun. Donald Mason of Boston is dance-master.

Because enrollment is limited, applications are accepted by mail only, on a first come, first served basis, with registration deadline Oct. 23. Classes are held ten selected Thursday afternoons beginning Oct. 29 and extending through February, with special parent visitations scheduled during the season. Parents are also invited to serve as occasional hosts and hostesses. Complete information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. John Hurlin.

The November Club is a women's organization founded in Andover in 1889 and devoted to the extension and promotion of cultural and social interests.

To Observe Anniversary

The members of South Congregational Church (U.C.C.) are preparing to observe the 270th anniversary of their church. Founded by Samuel Phillips, South Church has been an important part of Andover's community life since 1711.

On Oct. 16, a dinner dance will be held at the Andover Country. Guests will dance to live band music and enjoy a roast beef dinner. Contra-dancing (country line dancing), popular in the 1700s, will be a highlight of the evening's entertainment.

Members and friends of South Church are invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased at the church office, 41 Central St., or from any member of the celebration committee: Dot Tavern, Marty Schmidt, Joan Johnson, Priscilla Anderson, Diane MacDougall, Sue Moreland, Pam St. John, Camille Wilkins, Pat Dreese, Thelma Church and Priscilla Bartel.

To Celebrate Penance Service

On Wednesday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in St. Augustine's Parish Church in Andover, the parish community will celebrate the Sacrament of Penance to experience peace, forgiveness and reconciliation with God and with one another.

The communal celebration of the Sacrament of Penance renews the Catholic community by reminding all men and women of faith that everyone stumbles in daily life and needs to ask God's forgiveness and the courage to forgive the hurts and pain caused by others.

The parish priests and other area Augustinian priests will celebrate this Sacrament of Peace and Reconciliation, and all parishioners as well as their families and friends are invited to attend.

Hear Ye!

Ed Parker, replete with colonial Town Crier costume proclaims the upcoming 270th anniversary celebration scheduled for South Church.

Yom Kippur Services At Andover Temple

Yom Kippur services will be held at Temple Emanuel, 7 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover.

The feeling of Yom Kippur is not one of mourning, but rather one of seriousness. The Kol Nidre chant sets the tone for the day of fasting and soul-searching. More a legal formula than a prayer, it expresses the idea that man's plans and promises, no matter how earnest, cannot always be fulfilled. In the coming year — as in the past year — promises made to God and to the worshipper himself may be wiped clean from the slate. However, those commitments made to one's fellow man are not so easily eradicated; this is an issue between man and man.

The Hebrew word chet is usually translated in English as "sin." This, however, is not a translation which carries the message of the Hebrew. Chet has its origins in archery, and the term is used to indicate "missing the mark." Such is the Jewish concept of sin — the missing of one's goal, losing sight of the important things in life. Among those spelled out for the congregation are sinning through word of mouth, abuse of power, disrespect for parents and teachings, exploitation of one's neighbor.

The most poignant moment of the day comes in the Neilah Service, the very last moments of Yom Kippur as the sun's shadow covers more and more of the earth. "It is not the death of sinners You demand — only that they return to You, return to life," says the New Union Prayer Book — Gates of Repentance. "Trusting in thy gracious promise, we have come before Thee, O Father, conscious of our guilt, yearning for Thine altar of peace. Condemned by the judge within us, we reflect sorrowfully on a life misused and filled with regrets on opportunities neglected and resolves come to naught," the liturgy continues.

The services will be conducted by Rabbi Harry A. Roth, assisted by Cantor Norman Broday and the Temple Emanuel volunteer choir. Holly Perlman will be at the organ. The Shofar, which is sounded at the conclusion of the day's services, will be blown by Atty Joel Labell, John Hahn, Susan Landy and Jeri Zeder.

Portions of the Torah will be read during the High Holidays by Judy Labell, David Popowitz, Naomi Klaiman and Karen Waks.

Mrs. Helen Wertheimer, president of Temple Emanuel, will be joined on the pulpit by the Temple vice presents, Don Sherman, Linda Tober, Dr. Martin Baer and Jack Haymar.

Schedule of services: Kol Nidre Wednesday, Oct. 7, 7 p.m.; Yom Kippur Thursday, Oct. 8: Traditional Minyan Shachrit, 8:45 to 9:30 a.m.; Main Service 10 a.m.; Mincha (afternoon service), 4 p.m.; Neilah (closing service), 5 p.m., to be followed by the Sounding of the Shofar and Havdallah Service.

Christian Science Lecturer

Just what is involved in Christian healing through prayer? Christian Scientist Richard Howard will explore the answer to that question when he lectures at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 278 N. Main St., Andover, on Oct. 8 at 8 p.m.

At the outset of his free, one-hour lecture, Howard, himself a Christian Science practitioner from Toronto, Canada, describes a turning point in his life when his wife was quickly healed of a serious illness.

For those unfamiliar with Christian Science, he says healing through prayer may seem to be related to the power of the human mind, some sort of self-hypnosis or mind-control.

It is none of those, he says. Rather, Howard adds, it is humbly letting God appear in our lives, meekly learning to understand the nature of God's creation and seeking to follow and obey the example "taught and lived by Christ Jesus."

The basis for Christian Science healing, then, he notes, is prayer based on spiritual truths taught and lived by Jesus of Nazareth. Those truths, which the disciples sensed and practiced, awakened them to "the healing reality of God as their Father—as the Father of all, as the Father of the entire universe." And this understanding, Howard says, "this dynamic awakening, this revolutionary revelation transformed their lives."

This awakening spiritual understanding, the lecturer adds, has to be put into practice through living. "We must learn that prayer is not so much what we say, but what we live," he says. "As the revelation of spiritual truth deepens in consciousness, our whole life becomes prayer."

Howard is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. His lecture is titled "What Do You Mean—Christian Science Treatment?"

Arthur W. Reynolds, Prominent Industrialist

Arthur W. Reynolds, 80, 14 Orchard St., Andover, retired president, treasurer and director of the Davis and Furber Machine Co., North Andover, died Friday at Lawrence General hospital, following a short illness.

His business life was devoted to the textile industry. In addition to his offices at Davis and Furber, he was trustee of the Village Land Co., North Andover and was a former director of the American Textile Machinery Association.

He was a long-term corporator and trustee of the Andover Savings Bank and a member of its investment committee. He served for many years as treasurer and chairman of the trustees of Memorial Hall Library, Andover.

He was a former member of the Harvard Club of Boston and New York, the North Andover Country Club and Myopia Hunt Club.

Husband of the late Gwendolen Brooks Reynolds, he is survived by his son, Frank W. Reynolds II of Andover and two grandchildren, Judith Brooks Reynolds, North Andover and Thomas Lothrop Reynolds, USMC, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

A family memorial service will be held at a later date.

Memorial contributions may be made to Christ Church, 25 Central St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Funeral Services Today For Accident Victim

A funeral Mass will be offered today at 9 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church, Lynn, for Mary E. (Evans) Daly, 54, 94 Ballardvale Road, Andover, who died Monday in an auto accident on Phillips Street, Andover. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery, Lynn.

Mrs. Daly died after the car she was operating hit the side of the house owned by Dr. and Mrs. Richard A. Katz, 68 Phillips St. She was returning home after shopping at the Shawsheen Plaza and was travelling alone when the accident happened. She was apparently making the turn from Central street to Phillips Street at the time of the accident which is under investigation by Andover police and the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

Born in Lynn, Mrs. Daly attended Sacred Heart and St. Mary's Girls High School in that city and the Massachusetts School of Art. She had been an Andover resident for nine years and was a former commercial artist.

She is survived by her husband, Augustine Daly, a son, Michael Daly of Nashua, N.H.; two daughters, Ann of East Bridge-water and Mary of Andover.

Alice Hastings, Victim Of Accident In Storm

Mrs. Alice (Perrault) Hastings, 71, Frye Circle, North Main St., Andover, died Wednesday night, Sept. 26, from injuries sustained when she was hit by a car crossing North Main street about 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hastings was returning home from DeMoulas in Shawsheen Plaza when she was struck by a car driven by Dionysius A. Malvetis, 60, 138 Cedar St., Haverhill. The resident of the elderly housing project was crossing the street with the pedestrian light during a heavy rain storm. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Lawrence General hospital where she was taken in the Andover fire department ambulance.

Mrs. Hastings was educated in Andover schools, was a retired textile worker from the American Woolen Co. and the Shawsheen Mills. She had also been employed as a clerk in Grant's Department Stores in Andover and Salem, N.H.

She is survived by her husband, Joseph M. Hastings; sons, Joseph M., III, an Andover police officer, Roger W. of Londonderry, N.H. and Warren C., of Andover; a daughter, Mrs. John (Dorothy) Morgan of Billerica; brothers, Donat of Florida, Emil J. of Salem, N.H. and Ernest of Andover, 11 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Lane-Allen Funeral Home, 68 Park St., Andover. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

James W. Hurley

James W. Hurley of 89 Abbot St., Andover, a retired linotype operator with the Cuneo Press of New England, Cambridge, died Sept. 22 at Lawrence General Hospital at age 79.

He was born in Marlborough, where he lived for many years, and was a life member of the Marlborough Council No. 81 Knights of Columbus, and the Marlborough Fish and Game Club. He was a member of the Boston Typographical Union as well. Hurley attended St. Augustine's Church in Andover.

He leaves one daughter, Anne Marie Paradis, and a son-in-law, Dr. Andre J. Paradis, with whom he lived; two granddaughters, Elise and Andrea Paradis, both of Andover; and four grandsons, Stephen, Mark, Daniel and Andrew Paradis, all of Andover.

A funeral Mass was celebrated Saturday morning at St. Joseph's Church, Ballardvale. Burial was in the Immaculate Conception Cemetery in Marlborough, from the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Memorial Contributions may be made to the Sister Mary Rosalie Long Memorial Fund, St. Augustine's Church, 43 Essex St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Ernest A. Stocks

Ernest A. Stocks, 67, of 75 Gould Road, Andover, an Andover resident for many years and a member of the Andover Baptist Church, died Sept. 22 at Lawrence General Hospital after a brief illness.

A Lawrence native, Stocks was retired from the Malden Mills in Lawrence, where he had worked as a cloth examiner.

He leaves his wife, Ruth V. (Thompson) Stocks; one daughter, Carol R. Stocks of Andover; one son, Walter Stocks of Londonderry, N.H.; one sister, Mrs. Esther Estell of Andover; one brother, Edward Stocks of Putnam, Conn.; one grandson, Brad Stocks of Londonderry, N.H.; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Contributions may be made to the Memorial Fund of Andover Baptist Church, 6 Essex St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

New Garage Under Construction At Park

Park Improvements Underway

The Department of Community Services is in the process of improving the Recreation Park facility with the Special Article money approved by the 1981 Town Meeting.

The former lodge slab has been cleared as has the entire area, both surface. The paved area has been built by the department's maintenance man, Ed Whitton, with assistance from several part time summer employees. All but the roof has been completed.

The shed, which for years has been filled with miscellaneous materials, has been cleared out. Windows were boarded and a new steel door installed, making it a more vandal-proof, usable storage facility. An inside light will be installed in the near future.

The stone foundation for the new bathroom facilities has been set. A water line has been brought to the area and a new septic system installed. Bids were just opened for the building itself and plumbing. The facility will be put out for bid and installation planned in early spring thereby completing the entire project for use beginning in the spring.

Project Security Is Concern After Stowe Burns Suspiciously

The fire that destroyed the Stowe School early Sunday morning, one day before it was to be demolished, was probably set by vandals, fire officials say — and may lead to tighter security at the three construction sites of the school building project.

Andover fire officials at first believed the fire may have been started by a smoldering spark from the torches of workers who started the preliminary work of taking down the aging brick building last Friday.

But Tuesday Fire Chief William T. Downs said he planned to notify the state fire marshal's office that the "probable cause" of the fire was arson by vandalism.

Chief Downs said police had found several young people in the schoolyard on Bartlet Street a few hours before the fire began and told them to leave.

School Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper said Tuesday he would recommend that the committee retain a security service to patrol construction sites at the Doherty School, West Junior High and Andover High School, "at least on 12-hour shifts." The building committee will discuss that proposal at 7:30 tonight at Memorial Hall Library.

The fire will have "no actual impact" on the $13.72 million building program, Gropper said, but he added that his committee "will just have to be just that much more vigilant to make sure nothing like this occurs on other buildings in the project."

Besides hiring a security service, "there isn't a whole lot that can be done," he noted. He is concerned not only about the project, the chairman added, but that children could be hurt playing at the construction sites.

"If it was kids," he said of vandals who may have set the Stowe on fire, "they may have gotten hurt themselves."

A bulldozer plows over the remains of the Stowe school which was levelled by a fire of suspicious origin early Sunday morning. Workmen had begun the task of demolishing the building Friday. Youngsters were seen around the building late Saturday afternoon, leading to the suspicion by fire officials that the old structure may have been the victim of arson.

First Phase Of New Equipment Purchase Authorized For Schools

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The school building committee last Thursday authorized the acting town manager to solicit bids for an estimated $455,281 worth of equipment to furnish Andover's secondary schools, as part of the $13.72 million school building program.

That projected figure represents phase one of a four-phase, "bare bones" equipment budget which will total an estimated $1,197,800. Acting Manager Tony Torrisi plans to go out for bids on all four phases by the end of this year, hoping to avoid the "escalated prices that will occur the longer we put off soliciting bids."

Meeting jointly with the building committee last week, the school committee also approved the first phase of the equipment budget, voting that it met the educational requirements of the building program that have been approved by the state's School Building Assistance Bureau. The SBAB is helping to fund the building project.

After nearly three hours of discussion, when both committees had voted unanimously to support the projected phase one budget, Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper cautioned that "if the bids come in too high, we will go back and prune some more — and this is no reflection on the educators. We will do intelligent and rational pruning so we do not impact other phases of the equipment budget at this time."

Gropper also pointed out that the $1 million-plus total estimated budget exceeds the $764,479 budget established last May because it includes items such as auditorium seats that were included in the general contractor's bid price. Those funds will be moved over to the equipment budget, he said.

Project Coordinator Richard McGrail, who helped prepare the equipment budget, added that the phase one budget has actually been reduced from the May estimate of $499,000.

Committee members were presented a detailed report on what equipment would be needed to furnish the new and renovated areas of Doherty Junior High, West Junior High and Andover High School under the first phase. The report was prepared by McGrail and project architect Herbert Glassman of Perley F. Gilbert Associates.

The first phase includes only equipment that requires plumbing, ventilating and electrical connections — excluding the special high-fidelity sound system and stage lighting and rigging for the new high school auditorium, which will be included in the final phase.

The phase-one budget totals an estimated $328,873 for physical education, art, homemaking, industrial arts, science, T.M.R., nurses' clinic and kitchen areas at Doherty; $55,563 for physical education and science areas at West; and $70,845 for physical education and automotive areas at AHS.

The budget was pared to the "bare bones," McGrail said, by limiting new equipment to "areas that didn't exist at all before (at the three schools), or things that were clearly needed. Everything else was eliminated." The budget does not, for example, include items such as athletic equipment that "some people would certainly call equipment," he added.

A parade of program advisors appeared before the committees to describe what

Cambodian Family Settles In With Help From Local Church

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 1, 1981

A New Life in America

The Chhun family, Cambodian refugees, pose in the living room of the South Lawrence apartment found for them by members of Andover's Faith Lutheran Church. The church is sponsoring the family's move to the area from a Philippines refugee camp. From right, they are Sarom Chhun, 32, holding three-year-old son Kamrang; his wife, Choeun, 30, holding 10-month-old son, Samrach; and Choeun's brother, Bunthy Chak, 14.

His life in danger, Sarom Chhun knew he had to leave his native Cambodia two years ago. And there was only one place he ever wanted to go, he says now: the United States, "the country of freedom, in all the world, the country of liberty."

Chhun, 32, is finally here, with his wife, Choeun, 30, their two small sons, Samrach, 10 months, and Kamrang, three, and Choeun's 14-year-old brother, Bunthy Chak. They arrived in San Francisco on August 25, released from a refugee camp in the Philippines, and they are being sponsored by the Faith Lutheran Church of Andover.

Under the Lutheran International Refugee Service program, Andover church members have helped the Chhuns settle into a large and sunny South Lawrence apartment, donated furniture and food, and helped Chhun find a job assembling printed circuit boards at Hewlett-Packard in West Andover.

"An L.I.R.S. representative came to the church to ask if the church would be interested in sponsoring a family in Andover, and we said yes, on a Sunday," church member Tricia Oscarsson of Gemini Circle recalls. "One week later, we were flying out to San Francisco to meet the Chhuns."

Oscarsson's husband, Rolf, describes how Chhun looked around in amazement at the airport. "It was the first time in more than two years that he didn't see any barbed wire or armed guards," he explains. "He said it was a strange feeling, being free."

Everything is strange to my eyes," Chhun adds later, sitting on the floor of his new apartment as his wife looks on silently and the children play quietly with the Oscarssons' young son. He is polite and soft-spoken, but animated, and he laughs easily.

"The big houses, and the skyscrapers," he elaborates, stretching an arm above his head to indicate a tall building. "And the many roads, the highways. And the cars."

"I don't see all the people in the streets," he says, referring to the crowded city sidewalks of Cambodia. "Here I see only the cars, coming and going all day. The traffic is very busy."

Choeun listens intently, but she does not speak. Her husband translates a question into Khmer for her — how does she like her new life here? — but she only smiles and nods in reply. ("She can speak English, too, but I think she's just too shy right now," Tricia Oscarsson says.)

The Chhuns have been introduced to such classic examples of American cuisine as pizza, hot dogs and the Big Mac, all new to their taste buds, and have found them "very nice," Chhun says. He and Choeun laugh merrily.

Winter weather may be more difficult for them to adjust to, Rolf Oscarsson predicts. On the warm September day when church members helped the family move into their apartment three weeks ago, Chhun was bundled up in a flannel shirt and an Army field jacket and still felt chilly, Oscarsson notes. "They have no conception of cold."

When he is not at the new job he started last week (the result of rounds of job interviews arranged by church members), Chhun spends his time reading, he says, gesturing toward a pile of newspapers and magazines. He jumps up and returns with a copy of the Massachusetts driver's license manual he has been studying.

He is eager to learn to drive a car, Tricia Oscarsson says. "He's never driven a car. He has driven a motorcycle. And he's piloted a gunboat."

Chhun was a Navy lieutenant in the Republic of Cambodia, living in the city of Phnom Penh and skippering a gunboat along the MeLONG River, until the republic fell to Pol Pot's Communist regime in 1975.

Soldiers, students and merchants were declared enemies of the Communists, arrested and slaughtered. Had he been captured, Chhun would have been killed, he explains. "I am enemy number one of the Communists."

But he was never captured. He gathered up his young family and left the city, heading for Battambang, the mountain province where he was born and grew up. He did not contact his relatives there.

Instead, Chhun says he changed his name, took a job as a farmer and hid his face from the soldiers of the Khmer Rouge, the Communists. When he was questioned about his past in Phnom Penh, he said he had

Eyes On the Wings

It was only scant notice, but the East Junior High, or former Punchard building, slipped quietly back into the news this past week.

Contractors work daily on a new structure which will ultimately replace the facility which answered Andover's secondary educational needs for many years. Within a couple of years the East Junior High will be emptied of its students and current educational commitment, leaving the town with a large building to either use or tear down.

There are those who have vowed never to allow the wreckers to touch the building, while others are just as adamant to see to it that the building is removed from the municipal real estate roles.

Interestingly enough, within the past week, the structure slipped quietly into the news. State officials, on hand for the groundbreaking for the new elderly housing project at Chestnut Court, got a quick glimpse of the structure and its possible conversion to elderly apartments. They seemed somewhat interested in the possible prospect of its future use when mentioned during the proceedings.

Acting Town Manager Anthony Torrisi informed selectmen of the funds available to study the continued use of the building as provided by a recent town meeting. Torrisi suggested that a committee to study the reuse be appointed soon, in view of the anticipated two-year lifespan of the building as an educational facility.

Frankly, Torrisi's thoughts should be followed.

A couple of years have a way of slipping by rather quickly and if anything is to be done with the remaining portions of the East Junior High building, then some planning should be underway now.

High on the suggested list for reuse possibilities remain the consolidation of town-school administrative offices in the building, along with the conversion of a wing or wings to housing for the elderly.

Both seem to be most appropriate uses.

The conversion to senior citizen units would allow for the retention of the building and the work subsidized by either state or federal authorities. There is indeed need for additional elderly units in Andover, according to the number of applicants for the available units.

The East Junior High building is close enough to town and all municipal facilities to meet criteria for state and federal funding.

As for the adapting the building to municipal administrative offices, there is the important consideration of funding such a project. There is little doubt that under current budgetary consideration and restraints, funding of major projects will be more difficult to come by in future years.

There is, of course, the possibility of other uses for the remaining wings, once the school building project is completed.

The one thing that should be taken most seriously at the moment is the consideration that there is time for sufficient planning. With some $56,000 in planning funds available, some solid suggestions and support information from Merrimack Valley Planning Commissions studies done a year ago, it would seem imperative that the planning process be initiated.

It will save the usual hysteria of planning by crisis which generally accompanies decisions of this magnitude.

The Public Forum

Selectmen Misinformed

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

Ref: 8-24-81 Editorial

Sub: Office of Selectmen is Misinformed

Providing safety upon highways is not contingent upon destination.

Contrary to the position of selectmen, it is their duty to provide adequate safety to all persons upon the town's highways, streets, roads and lanes regardless of when, where, why, who or how they may happen to be there.

This matter of constitutional law was settled in 1948 in a U.S. Supreme Court decision. It concerned school transport in a New Jersey town.

It was determined that providing transportation for school children had little to do with education and much to do with their safety. A town that provided a safe method for one child is obliged to provide it for all children similarly situated; without regard to destination or any other thing.

Applying this to Massachusetts towns, their custom of charging school transport costs to the school department is outmoded. It was in 1948, yet no effort has been made to correct this improper though traditional arrangement; now it should be.

One procedure is to insert in a town meeting order of business a "To see" if the town will vote to move busing costs from school department jurisdiction to the office of selectmen.

Approval would be mostly a catching-up action as any ten voters currently can demand that the office of selectmen raise whatever funds are needed to provide children on the streets the degree of safety which obtains for children or subsidized elderly in a bus; as G. Nix correctly reminded the office of selectmen.

In view of the record, long and extreme, that the selectmen have been foremost in urging town meeting to convert large areas of Andover into industrial activity, even provided tax free bonds to encourage it, thereby vastly overloading the ability of the town's streets to provide safe pedestrian passage ("90 percent of the streets are only 33 feet wide hence cannot accommodate sidewalks") each member of the office of selectman may, indeed, be personally liable, as well for town meeting, for injury to a child.

Moreover, G. Nix is to be further congratulated for pointing out to selectmen and others that at town meeting detailed line item budgets for school committee requests ought to be presented for voter action. Along this same line it is proper also to require a return to the practice of voting on detailed line items for the office of selectmen's budgets under "Article Four" which was discarded this year.

It was done so without any request from town meeting. One result is that this year's town meeting was one of the most wasteful and otherwise unsatisfactory in recent years. (Predictably, town officials hailed it as one of the best.)

In the meantime, the office of selectmen ought to be advised by its counsel that it has little recourse but to provide the funds (sidewalks, buses, etc) necessary and without more ado. It is the law of the land.

Why Protest?

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

My question is—Why did 150 mothers in Andover march and carry signs of protest before they appeared before our School Committee with their gripes? Seems they did not understand the policies relative to our school operations. That is the place to take your gripes plus problems. The reason we elect people to serve on our School Committee is to oversee school operations and problems.

The sad part of this protest by these 150 mothers is the example they set before their children plus other children—if you don't get what you want, scream and kick and protest.

the present time we have plenty of that going on

JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Terpil, Wilson are linked to assassinations in U.S.

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- The House Intelligence Committee has finally decided to look into the activities of two notorious former CIA agents named Frank Terpil and Edwin Wilson. It's about time.

We've been reporting for a year on these two renegades. They were indicted for smuggling explosives to Libya, but they jumped bail and fled overseas. Wilson is hiding out in Libya. Terpil is believed to be in Lebanon.

One thing that bothers the House Intelligence Committee is the possibility that Terpil and Wilson may have been involved in actual or attempted assassinations in this country.

The Justice Department has evidence that links Wilson to an attempt on the life of a Libyan student in Colorado last year. The suspected assassin knew Wilson and had met with him not long before the shooting.

As for Terpil, the government has his own words with which to accuse him. He was secretly taped by New York undercover agents two years ago. The undercover cops were posing as Latin American terrorists. Terpil agreed to sell them machine guns, explosives and other deadly weapons. "Any chance, are you?"

"No, come on," replied

one of the undercover agents. "Would I go around knocking off Americans? Ah, come on. No."

Retorted Terpil: "Well, we have in the past."

That was an astonishing statement. A former CIA agent was claiming to have killed American citizens.

Meanwhile, Justice Department sources say they are investigating a possible connection between Terpil and a former aide to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. We should stress that the senator himself probably had no idea his name was being used.

Here's the story:

A key government witness has charged that Terpil met several times in 1976 with someone nicknamed "The Preacher." Terpil thought The Preacher was a chief aide to Thurmond. The purpose of the meetings was to figure out a way to get eight C-130 transport planes to Libya. The aircraft had been purchased by Libya but delivery had been held up by the United States because of dictator Muammar Qaddafi's support of international terrorists.

Terpil had been offered a million-dollar commission by the Libyans for each transport plane that was delivered. The government witness told our associate Libya through Terpil's office.

According to the witness, Terpil offered The Preacher a commission of $250,000 for each plane and added that Thurmond would receive the same payment if he decided to help.

We have tracked down The Preacher. He's a man named R.C. Whitner. His nickname came from his middle name: Church. He was never a chief aide to Thurmond. He had merely worked for the senator as a fundraiser.

Whitner is now a Washington consultant. He said he had no recollection of having met Terpil. But he had met Ed Wilson, he said, at a couple of social affairs.

Spokesmen for Thurmond said there was no way the senator could have gotten the planes released, even if he had wanted to.

In any event, the Libyans eventually decided to try another big name to get their transport planes released. They turned their attention to President Carter's brother, Billy.

FATEFUL KIDNAP-PING? Could a parental kidnapping sink the AWACS deal with Saudi Arabia? Some congressional insiders think so.

The story involves two children, ages 2 and 4. They are the progeny of an American woman named Kristine Uhlman and her Saudi Arabian children are citizens of the United States.

Kristine grew unhappy in her marriage. So she packed up her two toddlers and found refuge in the U.S. Embassy in Riyadh. American diplomats helped her escape to Kuwait, and finally to the United States. She took up residence in Colorado.

A while ago, Kristine's husband showed up, kidnapped the two children and hauled them back to Saudi Arabia. The mother has been unable to contact her babies since.

Colorado's two senators, Democrat Gary Hart and Republican Bill Armstrong, have made their concern known to the State and Justice Departments. Hart has also written to President Reagan about the matter.

Kristine Uhlman has already told her tale to a House subcommittee. But her testimony may have more repercussions on the other side of Capitol Hill, where the Senate is considering the president's plan to sell AWACS planes to the Saudis.

Exhibit At Bradford

A retrospective of the work of Richard Newman, chairman of Bradford College's Creative Arts Division, opens Saturday, Oct. 3, in the Laura Knott Gallery at Bradford College.

According to Newman, the exhibition spans a decade of exploration and production in sculpture, collage and photography along with recent efforts to unite all three areas through a mixed media approach.

At the opening reception Sunday, Oct. 4, from 2 to 5 p.m., faculty member Andrew Woolf will provide music on the guitar and fiddle. An on-going slide show of Newman's work will be available for view adjacent to the gallery.

Regular gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. There is no admission charge.

Workshop

The Massachusetts Audubon Society is offering an all-day Saturday Workshop, Oct. 10, 9 to 3 p.m., on the art of cross-country travel using map and compass. This will not be a competitive event.

There is a fee. For more information and registration forms, call or write the Endicott Regional Center, 346 Grapevine Road, Wenham, MA 01984.

Warriors Romp Over Austin

The Andover offense ran up a total of 463 yards as they soundly defeated Austin Prep 49-0. Warrior Halfback Russell Lewis scored twice in the first half with Greg Sacco, Tim Grams, and John Ingemi also connecting with Quarterback Brian Moriarty for a halftime score of 35-0. With its starting lineup removed for the second half, the Warriors added two more touchdowns and securing their second win this season. This week Andover meets Greater Lawrence. Golden Warrior Booters Win Season Opener

By She Livermore

The Golden Warrior Booters won their season opener against Wilmington, which was delayed a day due to rainy weather, 3-0. The surface of Lovely Stadium contributed to the game in that the ball would roll through and could be judged properly. The passing was excellent on both sides and the game had many exciting moments.

On Saturday, the Booters travelled to Tewksbury to help them inaugurate their new soccer field located behind the high school. The inauguration was not all that Andover hoped for and Tewksbury was able to escape with a 1-1 tie.

Andover 3 - Wilmington 0

Scoring for Andover in the first half was Dan Roberts from left wing position following a pass from Steve Carbone. A short time later, Dan scored his second goal of the contest on a throw-in by Todd Lockwood. Wilmington pressed early in the game but were held at bay by the excellent play of goalkeeper Danny Kimball.

At the start of the second half a fired-up Wilmington team pressed their attack again only to be rebuffed by Andover's defense and the goalkeeper's saves.

Andover gained control of the second half and pressed their attack, creating many scoring opportunities, which Wilmington handled with the exception of one long pass from centre defender Todd Lockwood straight through the Wilmington line-up to centre forward Steve Carbone. Steve caught the ball directly in front of the Wilmington goal and tucked it into the net for the final score of the game.

The victory over Wilmington was an excellent way to start the season, although its postponement due to the rain gave the team only one day's rest before their second game on Saturday.

Steve Carbone

Andover 1 - Tewksbury 1

It was a fairly even game throughout its entirety. The Golden Warrior Booters had some control during the second half which led to Andover's only score. With six minutes left in the contest, Dan Roberts intercepted a poorly cleared ball from the Tewksbury penalty area, turned and put it in the upper corner of the net. It was an excellent play by Dan and was set up due to pressure created by the Andover offense.

Tewksbury were very scrappy throughout the contest and beat Andover to the ball many times. This helped them keep Andover off balance much of the game.

Solid defense and goalkeeping kept Tewksbury from scoring until the thirty-three minute mark of the final period. With two minutes to go, Andover suffered what could only be described as defensive collapse, and mental and physical errors led to Tewksbury's only goal of the game which earned them one of the two points.

Yvan Levesque was the cornerstone of the defense as he continually repulsed the Tewksbury attacks throughout the game. Paul Thoday controlled the middle of the field well.

Andover will have to dig deeper when they meet upstart undefeated Haverhill on Wednesday at the Lovely Stadium. On Saturday, Andover travels to Cauley Stadium in Lowell to meet the as yet undefeated Lowell team which has pulled off two surprising victories against Chelmsford and Austin Prep.

The way things are shaping up, the battle for the MV title this year will be very tight and every game will have to be fought seriously if Andover wants to repeat their performance of last year and win the MV title.

Jim Denoncourt played very well in the Tewksbury game and suffered a sprained foot. Also injured was John Lemieux. Kurt Oliver filled in very capably at sweeper position.

It was disappointing to Andover to lose a point in this manner but in truth the Booters missed many offensive opportunities which would have provided an insurance goal or two.

Andover Runners Fall To Methuen

By David Eckoff

Despite the excellent effort by the Andover High Boys Cross Country Team, they were defeated by Methuen last Friday 21-34.

Having perhaps the most feared trio in the MVC, Methuen captured places 1-3. The dynamic duo of talented sophomore Rick Dow (16:27) and sure-footed Carl Schwind (16:31) dueled it out with the Methuen Three, only to finish fourth and fifth, respectively. Next to place for the Warriors was senior captain, Scott James, placing a solid seventh and completing the three-mile course in a time of 17:38. Sophomore surprise Tony Holbrook (18:03), the dependable powerhouse Joe Manning (18:11), crackerjack runner Dave Eckoff (18:13), and "yes, it's really my name" Alex Niedzwiedzki (18:31) rounded out Andover's top seven, taking 8th, 10th, 11th and 14th, respectively.

Highlighting the JV race was Guy Brooksbank as he set a new course record of 13:55. Also racing well for the JV squad were Dave Petrella (4th) and Ralph Luciano (7th). The JVs dropped to 1-1, but eagerly await the next meet.

Runner of the Week Award goes to Rick Dow, who placed first in Lowell last Monday and fourth Friday. "Runner up" is Carl Schwind who placed second and fifth this week.

Though the varsity record is 0-2, Coach Grasso and his team remain confident that they can still salvage a fine season, and they are hungry for that first taste of victory for the boys varsity team.

Thirty-five competitors took part in this year's Department of Community Services' annual Junior Singles and Doubles Tennis Tournaments held over the past three weeks. Some excellent and exciting tennis was seen by many supporters who came to watch their favorite players. Although it was disappointing to have so few female entrants, the competition was outstanding. The department congratulates all the winners and offers its thanks to all the players for their fine sportsmanship and competition.

Results of final matches are as follows: Singles, Girls ages 13 and 14: Johna Malitsky over Susan Clark, 6-3, 6-3. Boys age 12 and under: Joshua Malitsky over Steven Napolitano, 6-0, 6-0. Boys ages 13 and 14: Whitney Bailey over Burke Harrington, default. Doubles boys age 12 and under: Joshua Malitsky and Jeff Brodie over Kevin Foley and Kevin Newman, 6-2, 6-0. Mixed: Fran Sullivan and Jim Sullivan over Ausin Wang and Peter Lee, 7-5, 6-3.

Hat Trick Launches Drive

The Andover Hat Trick Club has begun a membership drive for the 1981-82 season. The Hat Trick Club was formed in 1972 to encourage and support hockey at Andover High School. Membership includes parents and supporters of both the varsity and junior varsity teams. Its primary activity is the annual banquet and awards night at the end of the season. However, in view of this year's budget cuts, the club will be assuming more of the financial responsibility for supplying equipment for the team.

In addition to the membership drive, other fund raising projects include a fall flea market this weekend (see Classified Ads) and, in conjunction with supporters of the basketball team, a Syrian sub and lemonade booth at the July Sidewalk Bazaar.

Officers for the coming year include Alex Milne, president; John Sacco, vice-president; Maureen Fredrickson, secretary; and Carol Derby, treasurer.

Membership is open to anyone interested in hockey.

Contact any of the officers for more information.

Dolphins, Colts Start Season With Wins

By Jim Wiseman and Dean LoPresti

On the opening day of the Andover Jr. football league 1981 season, the Bancroft Dolphins beat the West Andover Redskins 18-0 while the Central Colts beat the Indian Ridge Vikings 14-6.

A clear, sunny day brought fans from all over to see the junior gridder's kick off their season. The festivities began at one o'clock when the teams, coaches and their respective cheerleaders were introduced onto the field. The league president, Norman Wallace, made the annual kickoff to Andover High coach Dick Collins and it was underway.

Dolphins 18 - Redskins 0

The defending champion Bancroft Dolphins kicked off to the West Andover Redskins David Curtis who brought the ball up to his own 20-yard line before being tackled by Phil Newman.

The Skins took over first and ten on their own 20. Curtis took the ball for a five yard gain before being hit by Sean D'Urso. Then Tim Smith was caught in the backfield by Cort Pomeroy for a loss of three. By fourth down the Redskins needed to punt. The punt was fielded by Scott Grant but there was a penalty against the Skins. They moved five yards back and punted again. Grant took the ball and was hit by Curtis at midfield. Dolphin ball first and ten on the 50. Brendan Lynch took the ball but was hit by Jeff Driscoll. On third and eight, Grant went to the air and completed a 17-yard pass to Pomeroy. On first and ten Mike Powers broke loose for 20 yards, but was caught by Ray Rourke who brought him down at the 11-yard line in Skin territory. On first down Aleke Msumba gained two yards on a dive. Grant then got caught in the backfield by Joe (Moose) Hart for a loss of three. On third and 11, Mike Power ran a pitchout 11 yards into the endzone for the score. The extra point failed. The ensuing kickoff to Ray Rourke brought the ball to the Skin 45 where Newman and John Twomey brought him down.

In the second quarter, the Phins got the ball back after holding the Skins on fourth and seven. On the Phins third and fourth downs, Scott Grant went to the air and failed to complete any passes and therefore, the Skins took over on their own 40. On first down quarterback Mike Moriarty got sacked by John Twomey for a loss of five. On third down, Moriarty completed a pass for eight yards to make it a fourth and seven. The Skins punted and Grant fielded it at the Phin's 22. On a first down play, Mike Powers got caught by Matt Moynihan for a two-yard loss. On the next play Akim Msumba gained ten yards to make it third and one. A five yard penalty moved the Dolphins back and they failed to get the first down. The Skins took over for one play and the half ended.

The B teams took to the field with the Skins kicking off. The Phins started off with Donald Connolly gaining five yards before being brought down by Stefan Kelly. On fourth down the Skins recovered a fumble on their 46. On their first down they lost the ball on a fumble recovered by John Lutz. The Phins took the ball at the 50-yard line and on first down, Robby Finneran picked up another first before being hauled down by Skins' Matt McKinnon. On second down, the Phins fumbled at the Skin 40 and the Skins had a first and 10. After the Skins picked up two first downs behind the running of Eric Tatro, Stefan Kelly and Tim Smith, they received a five yard penalty. The ball was at the Phin 40 yard line. As the quarter ended the score remained at Dolphins 6, Redskins 0.

The A teams came back in and the Skins ran a series of downs behind running of Todd Patti and Richard LaFond. On fourth down, the Skins were forced to punt. Scott Grant ran back the punt 30 yards to the Skin 30, where Jeff Driscoll stopped him. The running of Brendan Lynch, Mike Powers and Akim Msumba brought the ball to the 8-yard line of the Skins. On a first down play Powers ran it in for his second touch down of the day. The extra point was denied when Lynch was stopped by Mike Lane. A first down penalty brought the Skins back five yards to a second and 15 situation. The Skins had to go to the air but the pass was intercepted at the Skin 40 by Phil Newman. Akim Msumba brought the ball down to the 25 and made it a first and 10. The combined running forces of Msumba and Lynch brought the ball to the 20 yard line. Joe (Moose) Hart made both tackles for the Skins. On a second and nine play Cort Pomeroy ran 18 yards to pay dirt. The extra point failed due to Hart filling up the hole. The Skins only got in two plays before the game ended at Dolphins 18, Redskins 0.

Outstanding players for the Skins were Joe Hart, Stefan Kelly, Mike Moriarty, Jeff Driscoll, Andy Peck, Todd Patti, Mike Lane, Eric Tatro, Andy Jowett, David Curtis and Ray Rourke.

vikings 14-6 in an extremely well played game by both teams. Both teams fought hard and neither team should be disappointed.

The action began on the next to last play of the first quarter when Matthew McManus of the Colts intercepted a Viking pass and ran 50 yards to about the Viking 14 yard line. Two plays later David Rourke ran untouched to paydirt. The extra point was good on a run by Robbie Carpenter making the score 7-0, Colts.

The Under 14/16 Division played their first games last weekend and the results of all of them were very close, giving the spectators some exciting moments. Brief results of all of the games played last weekend appear below.

Under 14/16 Division

Barnstable 2 - Bristol 0

Barnstable dominated much of the play and tallied in the second quarter (David Cox) and final quarter (David Reed) whilst denying Bristol any successful shots on their nets. Shannon McCabe and Sean Burns assisted with the scoring. BOW: Brian Cronin, Chris O'Neil, Robby Foley and David Doyle (Barnstable) as well as Robin Kim, George Heseltine and David Pratt (Bristol).

Middlesex 3 - Suffolk 0

Suffolk were forced into a defensive posture by an aggressive Middlesex lineup, who controlled much of the play and tallied three goals (Jeff Poor (2) and David Bartle; Jeff Penner and Brian Poisson doing the passing) to win the victory points. BOW: Jeff Smith, Craig Sorrie and Danny Grecoe (Suffolk).

Franklin 0 - Hampden 0

Both teams worked hard throughout the game to score the elusive goal but when the whistle blew, neither of them had succeeded and they split the victory points. BOW: Gretchen Suchodolski, Sandy Saba and Kelly Andry (Franklin) as well as Suzanne Patrakis, Erin Kaufman and Karin Mesler (Hampden).

Plymouth 2 - Worcester 1

With less than a full complement of players, Worcester managed to hold their competition to one goal in the first quarter (Jennifer Cook) and tied it up in the third (Michelle Poisson). In the final quarter Plymouth won the victory when Betsy Murphy booted in the ball. JoAnn Martin and Betsy Murphy assisted with the scoring. BOW: Angela Bobba and Marsha Hollis (Plymouth) as well as Katy Hughes and Joanne Martin (Worcester).

Berkshire 0 - Dukes 2

The Dukes struck in the first quarter in their game with Berkshire and took the lead with two goals booted in by Kelly Johnson and Kathy Neaves. They continued to press the attack but good defense denied any further tallies. BOW: Kelly Johnson, Karen Pike and Julie Boland (Dukes) as well as Deanne Gianelly and Debbie Holt (Berkshire).

Under 12 Division

Chiefs 5 - Hurricanes 0

The Chiefs won a rather lopsided victory over the Hurricanes with a 5-0 final score. The Hurricanes made many attempts to get on the scoreboard in the second quarter but goalie Chris Nelson rose to the occasion and blocked them all. Scoring were Paul Dubanowitz, Chris Sapuppo (2), Tacher Worthen and Mike Schwartz; Mike Schwartz and Chris Sapuppo assisted on two goals. BOW: Chris Nelson and Craig Flashenberg (Chiefs) as well as Geoff Bolan, and Rusty Leonard (Hurricanes).

Kicks 2 - Whitecaps 1

The game was all tied up at the end of the third quarter, 1-1 (Michael Corkery and Jim Sullivan). In the final quarter, the Kicks booted in another (Tim Hagerty) and they won the victory. Ryan Murphy and Mark Neaves assisted with the scoring. BOW: Goalie Lukas Wennik and Tim Hagerty (Kicks) as well as Goalies Kyle Marcella and John Pratt, and Chris Harding (Whitecaps). IN a make-up game with the Diplomats, the Kicks won a 3-0 victory.

Sounders 4 - Earthquakes 0

The Sounders dominated much of the action and scored in every quarter (Stephen DuMosch, Matt Corbett, Robert Ashworth and Chris Gully; Mickey Schallop and Chris Gully assisted with the first half goals.) The Earthquakes made some excellent shots on goal in the second quarter but they were blocked by alert goalie Eric Tetreault. BOW: Stephane Kirkland, Andy Weiner, Andy Lascher and Bobby Hughes (Earthquakes) as well as Scott Friese and Eric Tetreault (Sounders).

Express 3 - Roughnecks 0

The first half was scoreless. In the second half, however, the Express found the range and tallied three goals. Steve Napolitano, Chris DiClemente and Steven

Timbers 8 - Tornadoes 1

The Timbers won a rather lopsided 8-1 victory over the Tornadoes who were forced into a defensive posture throughout the game. Scoring for the Timbers were Chris Colsia (3), Jordan Burgess (2), Chris Concemi, Stephen Bertetti and John Russell; Chris Colsia, Paul Lussier, Stephen Bertetti and Tim Higgins assisted on four of the goals. The Tornadoes' goal which denied the shut out was booted in by Jim Murphy. BOW: Gary Ziegler and Eric Williams (Timbers) as well as Jim Murphy, Greg Kinsky and James McKay (Tornadoes).

Lancers 2 - Diplomats 1

The score was tied up at the end of the first half (Derek Holmes on a pass by Nicky Coon.) Both teams worked hard for the winning goal and when the Lancers slipped one by the goalie late in the final quarter, they won the victory. BOW: Joey Tavilla and Derek Holmes (Diplomats). In a make-up game with the Express, the Lancers were defeated 4-1.

Robins 0 - Owls 3

The game was scoreless in the first three quarters as both teams worked hard to control the ball and get it into the goal zone. IN the final quarter, the Owls found the range and tallied three quick goals to win the victory points (Beth Ostrowski and Susan Clark (2). BOW: Susan Clark and Kathy Veno (Owls) as well as Kim Lowe goalie and Mary Bishop (Robins). IN a make-up game with the Eagles, the Robins won a 4-1 victory.

Barracuda 4 - Eagles 3

The lead changed hands throughout the play as each team tallied and at the end of the third quarter it was all tied up, 3-3. The Barracuda struck again in the final seconds of play and they won the hard fought victory points. Scoring for the Barracuda were Ann Koerckel (2), Rebecca Penner and Eileen Murphy; Ann Koerckel and Rebecca penner assisted with the third and fourth quarter goals. The Eagles' scorers were Kate Pierson, Debbi Freeman and Tahisa Paul on a pass by Lori Nelson. BOW: Lisa Fossella and Bonny Weinstein (Eagles) as well as Melissa Hurley, Janine Sotera, Meredythe Fisk and Stephanie Mellillo (Barracuda).

Dolphins 1 - Shark 0

The Dolphins won the victory points when they scored the lone goal of the contest in the first quarter (Sandra Comstock). BOW: Erin O'Boyle, Carrie Clark and Karen Mitchell (Dolphins).

Stingray 2 - Marlin 1

The first half was scoreless with both teams working hard to control the ball and get it into the goal area. In the third quarter, they both found the range, the Stingrays twice (Karen Bates and Kim Pass, both on passes from Krissie Carothers) and the Marlin once (Wendy Abramson), and the Stingray won the victory. BOW: Amy Williams and Jay Young (Stingray) as well as Aimee Levi and Kim Tobin (Marlin).

Falcons 1 - Hawks 0

The first half was scoreless with both teams working hard to control the ball. In the third quarter, the Falcons found the range and booted in the ball almost toppling the goalie (Chris Bourcy on a pass from Maya Emshwiller) and they won the victory points. In last week's game with the Marlin, Stephanie Brody denied the shut-out on a pass from Candace Staron. BOW:

Cheryl Crawford and Chris Bourcy (Falcons) as well as Lynne Brocklesby, Candice Kirkiles and Kim Guild (Hawks).

Under 10 Division

Jaguars 1 - Bobcats 1

The Jaguars assaulted the Bobcats' nets early in the first quarter (David Carnes on a centering pass from Steven Flaig) to take the lead. The Bobcats put on the pressure and made many, many shots on the nets, all but one blocked by alert goalie Jason Proctor, which was sufficient to tie it up (Andy Shea on a pass from Gregg Shapiro). Both team were fighting for the extra goal and the win when the final whistle blew. BOW: Dennis Aikman, David Sopp (bobcats) as well as Jason Proctor and Steven Flaig (Jaguars).

Leopards 2 - Pythons 1

The game was all tied up at the end of the first two quarters (A. J. Boutin and Doug Howes). Excellent defense denied any further successful shots until the closing moments of the game when Chris Eggert slipped one past the goalie to win the victory points for the Leopards. BOW: Mark Van Doren and Jonathan Clough (Leopards) as well as Peter Caruso (Pythons). In a make-up game with the Jaguars, the Leopards won a lopsided 6-1 victory.

Lions 3 - Cheetahs 1

The Lions took the lead on a penalty shot (Kevin Foley) in the first quarter, and the Cheetahs tied it up in the second quarter when Billy Batchelder scored on a pass from Albie Minichiello. In the second half, the Lions added two more to their total (Scott Clementi) and they won the victory. BOW: Brendon McGrail, Dan Ely and Chris Hart (Lions) as well as Mark Ziady, David Hughes and Danny Fay (Cheetahs).

Cobras 5 - Cougars 2

With four goals in the first half and another in the second, the Cobras won a 5-2 victory over the spirited Cougars who found the defense hard to penetrate, although they did boot in two to deny the shut-out. (Jamie Spinelli and brother Steve). Scoring for the Cobras were Mike Hein, Dana Orlando, Matt McVicar, Lance Gomes and Steve McSweeney. BOW: David Ahouse, Adam Ruma and Scott Bernard (Cobras) as well as Andrew Hannah, Eric Begg and Keith Rembisz (Cougars). Scott Bernard booted in the ball in last week's game with the Bobcats and not Scott DeRosa!

Pumas 1 - Rattlers 0

A penalty kick awarded the Pumas in the first quarter which resulted in a goal (Craig Knight) proved to be a winning one, since neither team could find the range throughout the rest of the play. BOW: Eric Patterson and Stephen Poor (Pumas) as well as Tim Parker, Adam Brown and Michael Forlizzi (Rattlers).

Panthers 2 - Wildcats 2

The Panthers scored on a penalty kick in the first quarter (Billy Tobin) and added another in the third when Alan Hanley found the range. The Wildcats tied it up in the second quarter and again in the fourth (Peter Kannam, one on passes by David Jaye and Toby Frothingham), and the game ended in a hard fought tie. BOW: Rickey Bertetti and Jason Blandini (Wildcats). In a make-up game with the Tigers, the Panthers were beaten 2-0.

Tigers 2 - Lynx 1

The Tigers were ahead 2-0 at the end of the first two quarters (Chuck Jessico and Matt Pothier; Aram Krauson and Marc Selvitelli assisted in the scoring). IN the third quarter, the Lynx were awarded a penalty shot completed by Mark Angelos. The Lynx made numerous attempts to tie it up but excellent defense denied all efforts and the Tigers were the victors. BOW: goalie Marc Selvitelli, Bryan Smith and Jim Dukas (Tigers) as well as Ames Prentiss, Matthew Buehler and Jeff Lang (Lynx).

Eagles 2 - Vultures 0

The Eagles controlled much of the play in their game with the Vultures and in a strong second quarter, booted in two quick goals (Elizabeth Hanson, one on a pass from Catherine Allard) which proved to be the game winners for the Eagles. BOW: Nancy Abramson and Rachel Dix (Eagles) as well as Nicole Ricci, Jennie Legg and Jasmine Sampson who defended the Vultures nets with class. In a make-up game with the Condors, the Eagles won a 2-1 victory.

Falcons 0 - Condors 0

After four 15 minute quarters of back and forth play, the scoreboard showed no score and the game ended in a tie, with both teams splitting the victory points. BOW: Cheryl Kluck, Kristin Donnelly and Kim Regan (Condors) as well as Stacy Melillo, Elizabeth Shea and Una Gaythier (Falcons).

Ravens 2 - Cardinals 1

The game remained scoreless until the final quarter when both teams came out determined to get the ball into the nets. The Ravens found the range twice (Suzanne Gianelly on a pass by Pauline Koh, and Pauline Koh on a pass by Jodi Saunders) but the Cardinals could only penetrate the defense once (Rosemary Torrisi), and the Ravens were the victors. BOW: Julie Darwin, Anne Comstock and Michelle Black (Ravens) as well as Rosemary Torrisi and Katie Doherty (Cardinals). IN a make-up game with the Vultures, the Ravens won a 1-0 victory.

Orioles 2 - Blue Jays 0

The Orioles controlled much of the action in their game with the Blue Jays but excellent defense held them to two goals booted in by Kristin Beebe and Brenna Cronin in the first quarter. The Blue Jays were held scoreless and the Orioles won the victory points. BOW: Stephanie Kuo and Megan Sheehan (Orioles) as well as Miranda Spieler, Joan Asgerisson and Melissa Krikiles (Blue Jays). In a make-up game with the Cardinals, the Blue Jays were beaten 3-0.

Hawks 1 - Owls 0

The first half was scoreless with both teams working hard to control the ball and get it into the goal zones. In the third quarter, the Hawks found the range and won the victory points when Laura Brink booted in the ball on a pass from Lisa Bruno. BOW: Laura Brink and Deirdre Sullivan (Hawks) as well as Karen Maxwell and Marci Schwartz (Owls).

Girls Topple Burlington

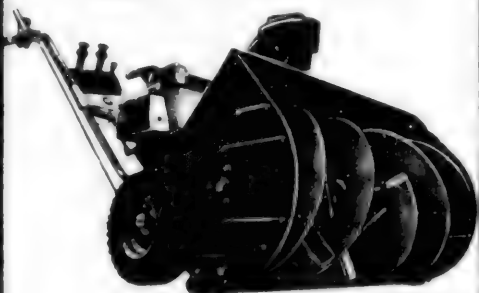

The Andover High girls soccer team nailed down an impressive 6-1 victory over Burlington. Among the scoring contributors were Beth Luciano on an assist from Karen Hardock, Kim Hardock from Julie Kinsky, Karen Hardock from Leah Rochwarg, Mary Beth Maehn unassisted, Mary Opiel from Karen Hardock and Connie Corkery unassisted.

Offensive play for Andover was dominated by Karen Hardock and Kim Hardock, while Mary Wiseman and Beth Luciano dominated on defense. Connie Corkery, the starting goalie, made seven saves and Leah Rochwarg, who went in in the second half, made two saves.

The Andover girls are going to be extremely competitive this year. Of the 35 players who tried out, 17 were kept on varsity.

Third year varsity players include all-star honorable mention and captain, Karen Hardock, Captain Beth Luciano and Kim Worthley. Second year varsity players include all-star goalie Connie Corkery, Captain Leah Rochwarg, Mary Beth Plaehn, Allisen Neely, Jenna Powell, Kim Hardock, Beth Sullivan and Julie Kinsky. First year varsity players include Joanne Convey, Heather Stewart, Mary Wiseman, Leigh Wragg, Alyssa McCabe and Mary Opiel.

Andover 6 - North Andover 5

In the season opener in Danvers, Andover came out on top in a game that had looked like it was going to be a blow-out for North Andover. North Andover dominated the entire first period scoring two quick goals when North Andover's forwards beat Andover's defense. Both times they broke in alone on goalie Ian Anderson and scored. North Andover opened the second period strong and scored again at the seven-minute mark. With a three-goal lead and over half the game played, Andover finally seemed to come alive. North Andover received a roughing penalty which Andover was able to capitalize on. Chris McAnally fed a nice pass to defenseman John Leng who fired from the left point and beat the North Andover goalie on the short side. Two minutes later, Danny Iandoli, on wing, hit Chris McAnally with a pass in front of the North Andover goalie. Chris blasted a shot past the goalie bringing the score to North Andover 3, Andover 2. With a minute left, Andover scored a third goal when wing Doug Bleszinski scored on a nice pass from Jeff Leonard. Andover's defense was able to slow down North Andover's offense and those shots that made the net were handled nicely by James Berberian who replaced Ian Anderson in goal at the midpoint of the period. At the end of the second period the score was tied 3 to 3 and Andover had new life.

The second period momentum continued into the third period. Center Robert Stoltz grabbed the puck from a North Andover defenseman and outraced both defensemen the length of the ice. He broke in on their goalie, deked him and scored to put Andover on top. Two minutes later, Chris Boyle slid the puck from Andover's zone between the defensemen. Again, Robert Stoltz outskated North Andover's defense to get the puck and fired from the right wing side. The puck hit the goalie on the helmet and was deflected into the net. However, North Andover came back at the seven-minute mark and scored in a scramble in front of Andover's net. Play continued at a wide open pace. With two minutes left, defenseman Hugh Maginnis broke into North Andover's zone on a nice pass from Matt Young. Hugh fired the puck from the top of the left faceoff circle and scored. North Andover got a breakaway and came in alone on goalie Berberian, scoring with ten seconds left. The period ended and Andover came away with a well deserved 6 to 5 win.

Squirt B

Coach Larry DiStefano's Squirt Bs began their season Sept. 18 against a very strong Billerica club, losing 7-0. Andover has shown marked improvement since that game though, losing two thrillers by 4-3 scores. The first 4-3 loss was to North Reading on Saturday, Sept. 19. Six-year-old Jay Stella provided strong goaltending in the game, but Eddie Chaisson and Derek Camarota's (2) late goals were not quite enough. The Bs came back from that strong performance with an equally impressive outing against Lawrence in Wilmington League action on Sunday, Sept. 27. The Bs turned in the effort with key players, Eddie Chaisson and Jay Stella. Andover's scoring came from Derek Camarota (1 goal, 2 assists), Michael DiStefano (1 goal, 2 assists), and Timmy Sullivan (1 goal, 1 assist). The defensive effort was anchored by the fine play of goalie Michelle DiStefano and defensemen Jimmy Morris and Jonathan Shine, each of whom broke up numerous Lawrence rushes. After Lawrence took their final 4-3 lead, Andover's first year player unit made up of defensemen Matt Tanner and Todd Allard, and forwards Danny Surdam and Bryan Smith kept the pressure on but had no luck in front. The rookie unit's play was greatly aided by the corner work of veteran forwards Randy Moreau and John Constantine.

Dolphins

the B teams came in for the third. Once again lady luck shined on the Colts. The Vikes fumbled and the Colts recovered on the Vikings 48 yard line. Then Devon Arsenault took advantage of this costly mistake and made an incredible 48 yard run for the touchdown. To add insult to injury, Arsenault also took it in for the extra point to make the score 14-0.

But in the fourth quarter, the Vikes refused to play dead. On the 11th play of the quarter, John Perry connected with Joe Frazetti for a 35 yard touchdown play. But the extra point attempt by Steven Redgate was denied by a tough Colt line. Thus the score was 14-6 and this is the way it stayed.

Starring defensively for the Colts were Eric Shenkel, Earl Abdo, Matthew McManus, Scott DeGregorio and Jeff Manning. Offensively Devon Arsenault, David Rourke, Robby Carpenter and Scott Wallace proved a big plus in the Colts' victory.

Starring defensively for the Vikings were James Clarke, Peter Radulski and Steve Rikeman. For the offense Steven Redgate, John Perry, Joe Frazetti and Richard Bourdelais played well for the losers.

Next week the Colts will face off against the Dolphins and the Vikings will take on the Redskins at 1 p.m. at Phillips Academy's JV Field.

The Andover Junior Football League would like to thank Mr. Joe Wennik for use of this fine facility.

PeeWee Hockey Results

PeeWee A 2 - Billerica 5

The Andover PeeWee A team played a very strong Billerica team in Wilmington League action this week. Andover's performance proved them to be equal to their opponents in skating, hustle and fortitude. Andover offensive and defensive efforts never let the Billerica players and fans feel confident. In fact, the puck remained the biggest obstacle as it hit the post for Andover and went in for them.

In the first period Andover applied pressure in the Billerica end constantly. Jamie O'Brien, Pat Breen, Joey Lyons, Peter Trede and Dave Riddiford made several good plays.

Second period play provided some good action by penalty killers Steve Donovan, Chris Sappupo and Mark Neaves as they thwarted Billerica's attack at Chris Hansberry who played well in goal.

Mark Berberian intercepted a pass in his own zone and fed Kyle McCabe who quickly laid the puck on the stick of Matt Young for Andover's first score. Tom Tormey and Glenn Allard played steady defense for goalie James Berberian who made several key saves.

Andover was faced with another penalty. Though shorthanded, defenseman Tom Tormey alertly passed to Matt Young who sent the puck across the ice to Mark Berberian. Mark fired the puck right past the Billerica goalie. Nearing the end of the game, Andover pulled the goalie but unfortunately, despite full control by Andover, the defiant puck did not go in.

PeeWee A 9 - Everett 2

At Danvers the Andover PeeWee A team enjoyed a high scoring victory over Everett beating them 9-2. Within the first few minutes, Everett scored but Andover then came out playing fast disciplined team.

hockey. The first goal was scored during a shift change for Andover with Kyle McCabe passing to Jamie O'Brien who fired home the initial score. Shortly after the ensuing faceoff, defenseman Tom Tormey picked up the loose puck behind his own net and spotted wing Dave Riddiford. Dave moved the puck to Chris Sappupo who slipped it past the Everett goalie.

Andover did not give Everett a chance to catch their breath as Dave Riddiford got the first goal in his hat trick on an assist from linemates O'Brien and Sappupo. Chris Sappupo scored an unassisted goal with 3:16 minutes left in the first period. Andover never relented and received excellent goaltending from James Berberian and Chris Hansberry.

Matt Young and Mark Neaves were able to keep the puck from clearing and Neaves passed to Mark Berberian who took a hard shot at the goalie and Kyle McCabe tipped it in for the fifth tally. Teamwork helped Riddiford's second goal with Sappupo getting the assist. Defenseman Glenn Allard and Pat Breen had to chase down several breakaway players and with perfect technique forced them out of the play.

Third period action remained enthusiastic for Andover when Mark Neaves made a perfect pass to Kyle McCabe who lifted the puck to score. Dave Riddiford's third goal was during a scramble in the crease and assists went to Chris Sappupo and Jamie O'Brien. With 30 seconds left and his team shorthanded, Mark Neaves used McCabe as a decoy and beat the goalie for the final score of the day.

health problems" if chemicals are used in the recommended quantities and with recommended practices, Penney said.

Dane discussed how Lincoln has dealt with the pesty moths during the past ten years. During the early '70s the town relied heavily on aerial spraying, the health director said, but in recent years has turned to public education instead.

Teaching townspeople to protect their own property has had a positive effect, Penney said: the gypsy moth population has actually declined since spraying was stopped. Spraying might help the moths more than hinder them by killing viruses and parasites, their natural biological enemies.

Thomas O'Leary, an Essex county planner, also discussed the possibility of spraying countywide — a plan which has fallen through. The state is still considering a spraying program, however, and money may be appropriated through the state legislature, Penney indicated.

been a factory worker, "and they believed me." Chhun is not proud that he lied, he says, but it was a lie that saved his life.

He worked long hours in the fields, and during the few hours left for sleeping he was often too fearful of discovery to sleep. "They were watched closely," Rolf Oscarsson says. "They didn't even dare speak to each other at night, even at home, because there might be someone crawling under their hut, listening." The food was poor, Chhun says, and there was never enough.

Chhun and his family left Battambang on Dec. 1, 1979, and headed for Thailand. They crossed the border four days later. Their escape was uneventful. Chhun traces their route on a small, roughly-drawn map of Cambodia, pointing out that his country is shaped much like the United States.

The Chhuns arrived in a Thai refugee camp crowded with 120,000 refugees on Dec. 7, 1979, and lived there for more than a year. The refugees were "not happy" there, Chhun says, because they had "no liberty." The camp was surrounded by three layers of barbed wire and guards bearing rifles. There was not enough food.

With his soldier's training, Chhun was drafted into volunteer service at the camp by the United Nations High Commission for Refugees. He was given Red Cross nursing training, made a section leader and given responsibility for 6,000 of his fellow refugees.

From Thailand, the Chhuns were sent to a refugee camp in the Philippines in February 1981, where Chhun thought they had found "paradise" because they had far more freedom than in the Thai camp. "The refugees were very happy," he says.

Again he worked as a volunteer in the camp, while studying English and American culture (Chhun learned to speak English and French during 14 years as a student in Cambodia) until he and his family left for the States six months later.

The Chhuns' first home in this country was in the Lutheran church building on South Main Street, where they stayed for two weeks while church members searched for an apartment for them. The apartment-hunters ran into difficulties and some discrimination against the Cambodians with local landlords, the Oscarssons say, and are disappointed they could not find an Andover home for the family.

Church members still hope to see the Chhuns move to Andover eventually. "They are really super-nice people," Tricia Oscarsson says. "I would love to have them as neighbors."

But the Chhuns are pleased with their apartment, located above a neighborhood store in a quiet, residential section of Lawrence. Their new neighbors have greeted them on the street and gifted them with houseplants, Chhun says, smiling.

He is constantly "surprised" by the "paradise" he has found here, a life far better than he dreamed of even in the Philippines. "This is the heaven of my life," he says.

Parts of the Chhuns' past are still unclear. Chhun and his wife are both scarred by shrapnel — Choeun so badly that a local doctor was surprised she was able to give birth to Samrach. Tricia Oscarsson says — and they lost two sons in Cambodia.

Chhun's face clouds with pain at memories he is still not ready to talk about. He says he is sad that his parents are still in Cambodia, now ruled by the Vietnamese Communists. He will never return.

A $1,000 grand prize will be awarded to the winner of the poetry contest sponsored by the Worcester County Library. The contest is open to all residents of the county. Entries should be submitted to the library by October 15, 1981.

But when he is asked if he is happy now, a bright smile immediately spreads across Chhun's face. "Yes," he says, nodding firmly. "Yes."

A Happy Postscript

The church has learned that Choeun Chhun's mother, sister, brother, and his wife and three young children have been located in a Thai refugee camp. Church members do not feel they have the resources to sponsor a second family, but they are willing to help another local group sponsor the family, so they can be reunited with the Chhuns here — possibly by Christmas.

Sarom Chhun is willing to sponsor them himself, Tricia Oscarsson notes, but has not been in this country long enough to qualify as a sponsor. Potential sponsors (with a minimum of six people in their group) should contact the Lutheran Church in Andover.

"Starting Over" Program Offered

"Starting Over" and how to go about it will be the basic content of the six meetings for divorced and separated Catholics to be held at the Brighton Cenele, 200 Lake Street, Brighton, this year, beginning with the first meeting on Sunday, October 4.

The speaker for this meeting is Fr. Michael McGarry, of the Paulist Center, and he will discuss "Who is My Family Now: Family and Home for the Newly Single Person."

This Program of Concern is geared to men and women in various stages of transition. The meetings are held (no reservations required) on Sundays from 2 to 4:30 p.m., and a weekend retreat for divorced and separated Catholics is scheduled for October 23-25. Please call the Retreat Office for further information or reservations for the retreat.

MSPCA Opposes Rodeos

Do you think rodeos offer excitement and harmless fun? The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals does not think so. Rodeos have the potential for cruelty to participating animals. Pain, stress, and injury may occur as a result of rodeo activities. The MSPCA opposes rodeos and rejects the contention that they are a harmless exhibition of America's wild-west heritage. The exposure of children to the rodeo atmosphere conditions young minds to accept the subtle message that the games, steers, and bucking horses are merely unfeeling objects to be exploited in the name of entertainment.

Equipment

existing equipment would be reused and what could no longer be reused, and to explain their requests for new equipment. The secondary school principals were also on hand to answer questions from committee members.

Athletic Program Advisor Richard Swift told the committees that at all three schools, most of the physical education budget would be spent on lockers for girls' and boys' locker rooms and team rooms. $34,900 at Doherty; $5,200 at West; and $39,200 at the high school.

While some existing lockers will be reused, Swift said, most of them are "junk" and "obsolete." He has recommended buying "the best lockers made. They're going to last us 40 years."

The phase-one physical education equipment totals $48,520 at Doherty; $7,450 at West; and $48,635 at the high school.

Diana Kolben, fine arts program advisor, explained that from the $37,006 phase-one art budget for Doherty, she is most "excited about" plans for new stainless steel sinks, countertops, storage spaces and art tables. Plans for a darkroom have been eliminated, she said, but the proposed area will be left so that it could be converted into a darkroom in the future.

Cabinets ($14,340) and a large refrigerator/freezer ($2,815) take up most of the first-phase equipment budget for home-making at Doherty. Occupational Education Program Advisor Rozamond Bastable indicated. Thirteen existing sewing machines will be reused and three new ones purchased at $480 each; the total projected foods budget at Doherty is $22,543, and the clothing budget, $10,339.

The industrial arts program at Doherty will be "essentially a new program," she explained, offering drafting and engraving, plastics, metal working, graphics and woodworking, with a projected phase-one budget of $37,577. Equipment for the carpentry, masonry, electricity, plumbing, and glazing areas will bring the total to $62,466.

Equipment for the new automotive area at the high school will total $22,210 under the first phase of the equipment budget. A disagreement over Bastable's recommendations erupted when building committee member Frank Hill argued that a $600 bubble wheel balancer is outmoded, and a modern wheel balancer should be purchased instead.

"We are not here to replace or replicate the VoTech School at Andover High," Gropper told Hill. "We are not trying to make mechanics out of (high school students), but simply give them the exposure experience." The bubble wheel balancer stayed in the budget.

Back at Doherty, Rita Petrella, new science program advisor, said that new science tables and service areas including sinks will be added to classrooms, and cabinets, shelves and storage areas added to workrooms, for a total estimated budget of $97,913 under phase one.

In one new science room and two existing rooms at West, the recommended equipment is "really modest," Petrella said, consisting mostly of new tables and cabinets at an estimated $31,712. She noted that some science classes at West are currently being taught under "really heroic" conditions in a former garage.

One item the advisor said she would like to add to the budget were fume hoods for each science room, at $14,000 each, to clear rooms of sulfur fumes. Glassman suggested that a less expensive and equally effective answer might be to buy two portable hoods, which could be moved where needed, and to build one permanently into one workroom. The building committee authorized the architect to examine that plan.

Special Education Program Advisor Pamela Kvilekval appeared briefly to explain the projected $4,621 in equipment for the T.M.R. area at Doherty, where retarded students will be taught "daily living skills."

New equipment will include a sink, cabinets and 16 pupil chairs; the existing 16 chairs are all broken, Kvilekval said. To be salvaged from the current "inadequate" T.M.R. area at East Junior High are an electric range, a refrigerator, a teacher's desk, two tables and a file cabinet.

Most of the equipment at the school nurses' clinic area at East will be reused at Doherty, the program advisor said, but she recommended buying a new sink and counter unit, cabinet and examination table for a clinic budget of $1,265 under phase one.

Finally, Food Service Director Richard Barron told the committees that although new kitchen equipment is "badly needed" at Doherty, much of the existing equipment from Doherty and East kitchens will be reused under the estimated $44,650 kitchen budget.

The major kitchen purchase, at $12,500, will be a double-serving steam table counter with a salad bar, Barron indicated. His shopping list also included a sink, a convection oven, and two electric cash registers, among other items.

Freezers, refrigerators, utility tables, mixing machines, assorted racks and bins, and meat slicers are among the existing kitchen items that will be brought over to the renovated Doherty kitchen. Barron recommended that a number of other items be "sold or traded" because they are over 25 years old, "will require continuous repair," and "do not conform to today's safety requirements."

Committee members commended McGrail and Glassman for their thorough presentation, then scheduled another joint session for Oct. 15 to hear a similar presentation on phase two of the equipment budget.

That phase will include equipment for the library (I.M.C.), typing and music departments, and computer and math lab at Doherty; the I.M.C., reading area, L.D. rooms, work and team rooms at West; and the I.M.C. and music areas at Andover High.

Stowe

erhill began taking down the old school Friday, for $4,850 when the fire finished the job for them beginning at 1 a.m. Sunday. Dozens of townspeople watched firefighters put out the spectacular blaze without incident.

The Stowe was to be demolished to make way for tennis courts and other new construction at the Doherty, which is being converted into a junior high as part of the school building program.

Massachusetts Historical Society school last year, ~~one effort~~ to save the that its historical worth was not ~~showed~~ cant enough to disrupt the building program.

Although the original school was built in 1893 and named for author Harriet Beecher Stowe, it was, ironically, destroyed by fire and rebuilt some years later.

Although many townspeople fondly remember attending elementary school — and some, perhaps, junior high — at Stowe, most recently it served as home to school administration offices and the Community Services department. Administrators found it poorly suited to that role, however, and left for new quarters in the ~~summer~~ School without regret this

Volunteers Needed

The Department of Community Services is looking for volunteers to help with this year's Five-Mile Road Race to be held Sunday, Oct. 25. Volunteers are needed to help at the registration table, water stations, finish line and refreshment desk. Anyone willing to help are asked to contact the DCS office as soon as possible.

"King Midas"

The Boston Children's Theatre is presenting "King Midas" and the Golden Touch as the opening production of the 1981-82 season at New England Life Hall. Performances are scheduled for Saturdays Oct. 17, 24, 31, Nov. 7 at 2 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 1.

"King Midas" based on the children's story by Nathaniel Hawthorne, is the story of a king who wishes that everything he touches may turn to gold. When the wish is granted, he inadvertently touches his daughter. Overwhelmed by grief, he gropes his way to the simple truth that breaks the spell. George Roland will direct, with settings by David Sumner, costumes by Mary Sheldon and makeup by Paula Sutor.

without Andover adding to it in September 1981. The Town of Andover has a great school system, one of the finest in the area.

It is headed by Supt. Dr. Kenneth Seifert, who is dedicated to do an excellent job as superintendent of the Andover schools, which he is doing. Congratulations to you, Supt. Seifert.

Andover also has a very knowledgeable School Committee headed by Chairman Joseph Finn. It takes capability and knowledge to cope with the problems and issues of the times regarding education for our many students. Andover can cut down on free bus rides, but can not cut down on education—as many people in Andover realize.

To our School Committee: keep up your good work and for it—many thanks.

I would like to sign off with a favorite slogan—"We are what we say and do each day—and it comes from within."

In Appreciation

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

On Friday, Sept. 25, at 10:45 p.m. I had a mishap with my car on Route 114 in front of Merrimack College and had to pull off the road. There are several people I would like to thank for coming to my aid. The lady whose door I knocked on (she would not open it, and I do not blame her) called the police for me. The two police officers who responded to the call could not have been more polite and helpful and lessened my panic. The young man who responded with his tow truck, he runs The Great Pond Service Center in North Andover or Lawrence. I'm not sure which, at any rate he towed my car to his garage, repaired it quickly and efficiently and I was once more on my way home. In all the years I have been driving, I have never had a problem with my car on the road and I appreciate the fact that my first time was made virtually painless for me and my friend. Again I would like to thank those who helped.

Mrs. Clayton J. Mulcahy Jr.

Heavy traffic on the highway speeds it takes almost the length of a football field to reach a complete stop.

Trailer Travel

The sun can cause damaging ozone deterioration of trailer tires. The ALA Auto and Travel Club recommends when you stop for a rest, try parking in the shade or covering your tires with cloth or canvas.

Mini-Marathon Set. for Oct. 18

Sunday, Oct. 18 at 10 a.m. will mark the start of the 14th Annual Greater Lawrence YMCA Mini-Marathon.

This year's race, limited to 400 runners, will feature a digital clock finish line with electronic timing.

T-shirts will again be awarded to each entrant, and refreshments will be served following the race. To date, applications have been coming in regularly with many of the area's top runners registering.

Race applications are available at area sporting goods stores and at the Lawrence YMCA, 40 Lawrence St.

Y Planning Trip To Play

The Andover North Andover YMCA has scheduled a trip to see "Sheep Madness," a comedy murder mystery currently appearing at the Charles Playhouse, Boston, on Thursday, Oct. 15. The play has been listed by critics as the "best comedy of the year." A bus will leave the city at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are available at the YMCA, 40 Lawrence St., Andover.

For more information contact the Y at 682-4111, Lawrence St., Andover.

Scuba Instruction

The Greater Lawrence YMCA Downtown Branch is now accepting applicants for the Fall Instructional Scuba Class to begin on Thursday, Oct. 15.

Applicants must be at least 15 years of age, in good health and able to pass a swim test. Classes will be held on Thursdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the YMCA's Downtown Branch on 40 Lawrence Street.

The YMCA Scuba Program is a 32-hour course which includes pool work, theory classes and three open water dives aimed at preparing scuba divers for a safe, knowledgeable diving career. Those successfully completing the course will receive a YMCA National Scuba Certification.

Elm Street Automotive - 24 Hour Road Service, Towing

When you have car problems remember these three words: Elm Street Automotive! They have six wreckers standing by at all times to answer any call for road service, towing, automotive repair of any kind. Located at 15 Elm Street, just off the square in Andover, they can be at your service within minutes of your call - including complete AAA service. This complete service station offers truck, conventional, and flatbed towing. With the long winter months ahead it's a good time to have your car winterized. Take your car to Elm Street Automotive for anti-freeze, a check for leaking hoses, and a change to snow tires. Owner Ron Abraham and his crew of experienced mechanics specialize in automotive diagnosis and repair. They can eliminate the problems that are giving you difficulty and perhaps causing poor engine performance and low fuel efficiency.

Elm Street Automotive does repair work on both foreign and domestic vehicles, and have men who specialize in repairing Corvettes, Cadillacs, and other fine automobiles.

If you need repair work on your family automobiles to pass fall inspection, make your appointment now with Elm Street Automotive. Avoid the last minute rush as inspection deadline draws near. Have the mechanics at Elm Street Automotive align the front end, replace headlights or tail lights, solve electrical problems, do brake work, etc. Elm Street Automotive guarantees satisfaction on all repair work. Get acquainted with them soon. Tel. 475-5873; or nights and holidays their 24 hour number is 683-2712.

Real Estate

By DOUGLAS N. HOWE

REALTOR

BORROWING POWER

Many homeowners borrow against their property when they need large amounts of cash to make major improvements, pay college costs, handle emergencies, make a down payment on a second home or on some investment property. The two major borrowing routes are refinancing and second mortgages.

If the rate on your present mortgage is less than the current interest rates, financing can be costly. On the other hand, rates and monthly payments on long-term financing are lower than short-term credit. Even if the total amount you pay in interest is greater, monthly payments on a long-term loan may fit your present financial needs best.

You might also obtain a second mortgage on a short-term basis in the form of a second mortgage. Both are based largely on the strength of your financial position as a property owner. However, second mortgages are more costly because the risk is higher for the lender and generally last for about five years in length.

24 HOUR ANSWERING FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE

Towns Agree On Where I-93 Road Should Be Built

In what may — or may not — be a breakthrough in the 25-year-old struggle for an I-93 interchange in Lowell Junction, Andover, Tewksbury and Wilmington officials have reached agreement on how the interchange should be built.

Selectmen from the three towns have agreed that the Route 125 interchange should not be eliminated, as state DPW authorities have suggested in the past, and that a new interchange should be built. Selectman Edward Harris reported to the board Monday night.

Former Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said last year that disagreement among local officials on what type of interchange should be built, and where, has been a stumbling block to the project in past years.

In recent months, Andover selectmen have been organizing efforts with neighboring officials to restore the Lowell Junction interchange to second place on the state's list of priorities for improving the I-93 corridor.

It held that spot for a while last year, just behind plans to improve the Route 128 access onto 93 in Woburn, until it slipped to third place. A new River Road interchange is now the state's second priority.

The selectmen believe the Lowell Junction industrial area has a far more urgent need for an interchange than the newer Tech Park off River Road, which already has some access to 93. Ballardvale residents have long complained that industrial traffic clogs their narrow streets in what is one of the oldest neighborhoods in Andover.

Harris recently told Ballardvale parents who are concerned that their children must walk to school following this year's busing cutbacks that the interchange might offer them some hope.
